Dedication

Mrs. Jo Norris Palmore

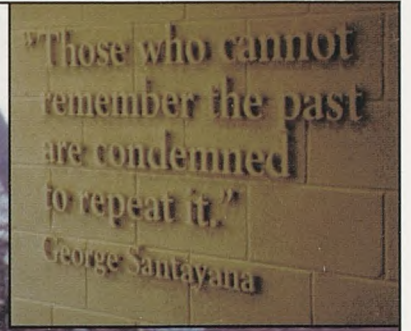

A week before the first deadline, we realized that we really needed a family photo. We got out our MBA directory, and dialed the published number. Unfortunately, after calling several times in the course of an hour, we discovered that the line was continuously busy. Finally, we searched for another number because we knew that you would not stop helping students across the country with their homework until they mastered the material.

It is obvious to everyone that you are a great teacher with a passion for the beauty of literature and a distinct taste for resplendent scarves; you were the one chosen to succeed legendary Mary Helen Lowry as chair of the English department and teacher of English IV AP, a job you have performed masterfully these last 8 years. Since 1981, you have taught English I, II, and IV, and have been a Freshman, Junior, and Senior Class Sponsor. But it's what many do not know that sets you in a class of your own. During eighth period, one can enter your classroom to find you giving extra help to your students. You are always available to help your students especially during theme week when everyone asks you to help him with his writing. You gladly read the college essays of your students, offer them suggestions, and write college recommendations for them. You are an AP English and SAT II Writing reader, and you also write questions for the ACT and exercises for the junior school's Big Red Rulebook. This past summer you attended a two week summer school on William Butler Yeats. And the most remarkable thing is that it does not stop there. Often, because you are on-line tutoring various students with a multitude of questions, you only get 5 hours of sleep a night.

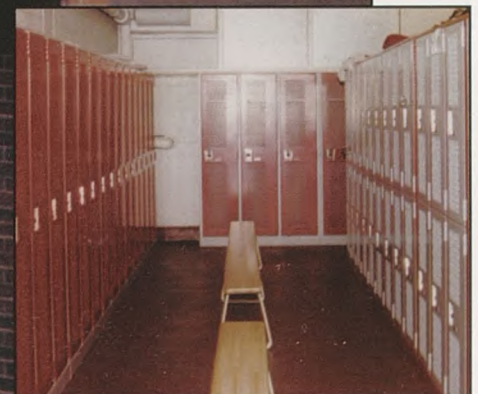

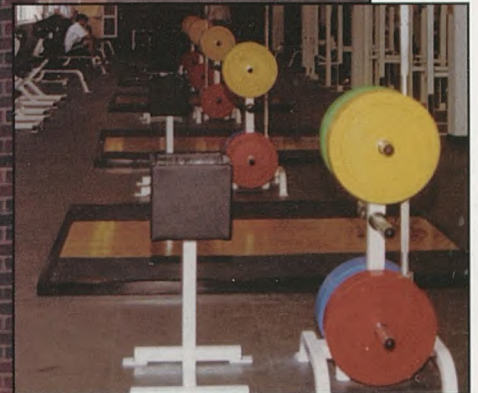

You set the example for your students to work hard, and your kindness and relentless service to your students is too impressive to describe. On behalf of the entire MBA community, we truly thank you for your dedication to the school and your students, and we would like for you, Mrs. Paramore, to accept this dedication of the 2001 Bell though we feel that we can never express enough gratitude to you for your love.

Homecoming 2000

Homecoming 2000 kicked off with the 56th annual Spaghetti Supper, organized by Mrs. Robert Nemer and Mrs. William Shell. This year's Supper in the Currey Gymnasium raised the most money ever. Afterwards, the entire school was treated to an exciting football game in which MBA rolled past McCallie's Blue Tornadoes 24 - 21. During halftime, Mr. Andrews crowned Jamie McGee as Homecoming Queen. The next night, at the Dance, everyone twurked and shook it fast to the sounds of Gino and his Band. The weekend wrapped up with post-Dance parties (Note: The editors could not get any pictures from these events past the censors).

Office

Throughout the school year, both the faculty and students would not be able to function without MBA's competent office staff. Mrs. Power, Mrs. Patrick, and Mrs. Bradshaw work in the main office, while Mrs. Howell works as Mr. Gioia's assistant. Meanwhile, Mrs. Snow attends to the microbe students in Massey. Mrs. Miles assists with work downstairs in Ball while Assistant for Athletics, Mrs. Morrissey, operates from her new office in the gym.

Alumni and Development

The Alumni and Development Office coordinates the activities of MBA and Wallace Alumni, as well as of parents and friends in the life of the school. It also publishes the school's biannual magazine. Most importantly, though, they direct fund-raising efforts for the growth of the endowment and annual and capital needs.

CHRISTESON

Junior School Dedication

Mrs. Anne E. Christeson

Since 1987, Mrs. Anne Christeson has taught English I, II and Latin I, II, III at Montgomery Bell Academy. In addition, she has been a sponsor for the Archives, the Academic Decathlon, and the Fine Arts club, a member of the Discipline and Scholarship and Technology committees, chair of the foreign languages department, and more recently, a microbe cross country and track coach. Through these many endeavors, she has profoundly influenced a decade and a half of MBA students. Her impact on her students, and the junior school in particular, is manifested by the fact that the class of 2005 voted her to be the recipient of this year's Junior School dedication of the 2001 Bell, making her MBA's only teacher to have received this honor twice.

Cross Country

With leadership provided by eighth graders Eastman Landry, James Hollis, Craig Stewart, Brock Baker, and Cotton Clark, the cross-country team had another strong season. The team ended with a record of 14 wins and seven losses. In the HVAC finals, with Eastman Landry's win, the team finished as HVAC Runner-up.

7th Grade Football

This year's team had several bright spots including their outstanding running game, aided by workhorse tailback McGavock Johnson. Also, their passing game, led by tight end Clayton Lainhart who caught a thirty-yard touchdown pass, helped them in a pinch. The team came up with several great wins against BGA and Christ the King to finish 3 - 3.

Back Row (l-r): Coach Regen, Paul Crook, Phillip Robinson, Brad Boston, Jack Eakin, Bransford Maxwell, Joseph Birdsong, Davis Martin, Matthew Cate, Ryan Burns, Matt Bubis, Hughes Tipton, Taylor Gould, Jonathan Cannon, Coach Henderson, Tom Nagle, Coach Popovich; Middle Row (l-r): Chris Gioia, Michael Vasilevskis, Brian Harris, Preston Adams, Eastman Landry, Clark Lundy, Richard Greathouse, Clay Caroland, Grant Thomas, Brenton Harrison, Andrew Barge, Caldwell Tanner, Tyler Bond, Luke Brown, Brewer Adams, C.J. Hurt; Front Row (l-r): Patrick Bradley, Scott Vaughn, Stephen Wieck, Byant Hahnfeldt, Rob Beasley, Brents Herron, Paul Knoll, Ben Turk, Jed Crumbo, Colin Brier-Braxton, Bailey Neal, Andrew Pitman, Cage Spoden

Although the team began the season with a slow start, they defeated several tough opponents such as BGA, DCA, and Woodland. Although MBA played very well, BA barely defeated the Big Red in overtime in the Big Red Bowl. The players proved that MBA will remain strong in football for years.

Golf

First Row (l-r): Jake Wright, Chris Woolsey, Trey Kendall, Jim Witherspoon, Bill Stringfellow, Steven Dahl, Mac Keith, Read Ezell, Toby Simpson

The golf team, led by Mr. Moxley, in its second season had even more success as they finished second and third in two tough tournaments. Mac Keith and Steven Dahl won two of the top medals awarded at the HVAC tournament to help the team to a fifth place finish out of eleven teams. The team looks forward to another successful season next year.

7th Grade Basketball

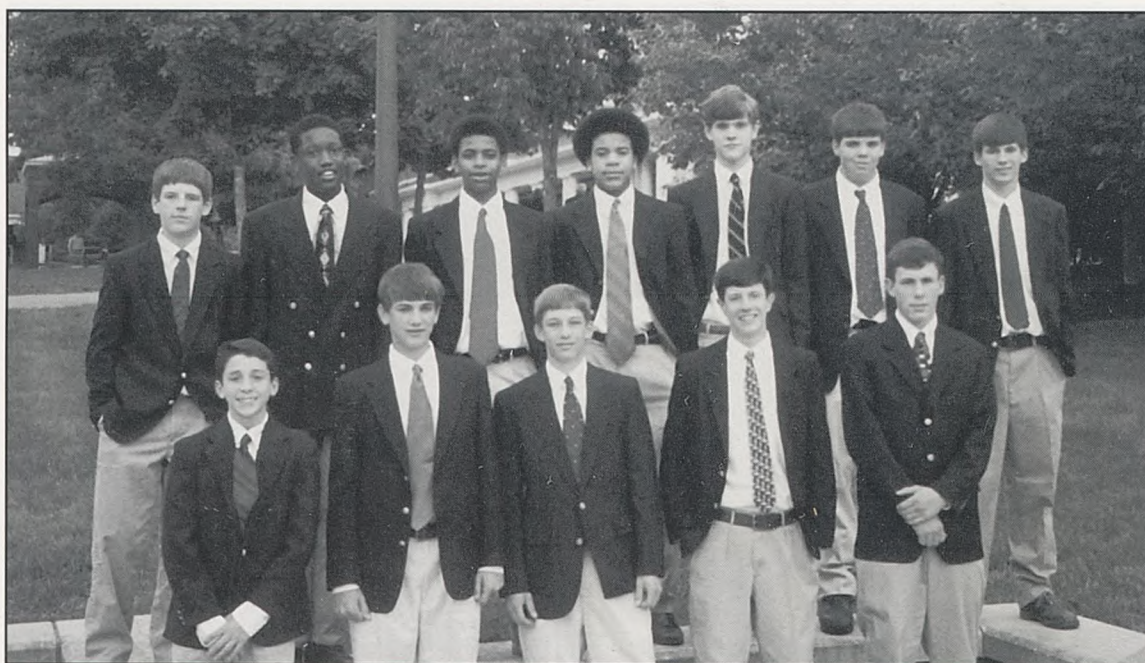

Although their record of seven wins and ten losses may not reflect it, the seventh grade basketball team had a great season. The highlight of the season was their victory in the USN tournament.

8th Grade Basketball

The 8th grade basketball team worked extremely hard and vastly improved during the year. The season included some big wins, including a victory over Brentwood Middle, and some tough losses, including a four point loss to powerful Page Middle and a last second playoff loss to University School. The team finished with a 7-17 record, but do not be dismayed. The basketball future is very bright for the class of 2005.

Back Row (l-r): Paul Crook, Bryant Hahnfeldt, Coach Richard Klausner, Jonathan Gotterer, Jeffrey Glaser, Daniel Patten, Eastman Landry, Matt Bodnar; Second Row (l-r): Derek Pitman, Bill Stringfellow, Joseph Alexander, Charlie Boyd, P.J. Fox, Todd Bond, Dean McKenzie, Craig Stewart; Front Row (l-r): Lex Lechleiter, Brian Syverud, Eric Beiter, David Syverud, Jeff Newman, Trevor Redding; Not Pictured: Mac Keith

The microbe soccer team finished an impressive 9 - 4 this season. They finished in third place, losing to Woodland 1 - 0 after two overtimes and penalty kicks in the league semi-finals. Eastman Landry, Craig Stewart, Jonathan Gotterer, Jeff Glaser, and P.J. Fox led an outstanding defensive unit. The offense was led by Bryant Hahnfeldt with 10 goals, while the midfield was controlled and dominated by Mac Keith. Coach Klausner called this one of the "most spirited and toughest" microbe teams he has ever coached.

Wrestling

Back Row (l-r): Coach Steve Sowell, John Lee, Matthew Behar, Tom Nagle, Andrew Barge, Jack Eakin, Davis Martin, Will Fitzgerald, Tyler Bond, Clayton Lainhart, Coach Jay Jenkins, Coach Edward McBride; Third Row (l-r): Will Whitson, Michael Vasilevskis, Teddy Christenberry, John Fay, Alex Holt, Caldwell Tanner, Brents Herron, Ben Turk, Matt Bubis, Richard Greathouse, Clay Caroland, Luke Brown, Brock Baker; Second Row (l-r): Chris Woolsey, Will Bundy, Pete Burgess, Michael Pierce, Terrell McWhirter, Will Barge, Chase Cato, Elliott Nelson, Paul Knoll, Cage Spoden, Matt Eskind, David Reynolds, Pete Long-Innes, Buck Curley, J.J. Nagle; Front Row (l-r): Scott Hearn, Erik Swanson, Will Chapman, Justin Hall, Tommy Corts, Bracey Wilson, Regen Jewett, Patrick Bradley, Ben Bellet, Graham Haley, Rob Beasley, William Schuller, Nathan Deutsch

Led by captains Brents Herron, Ben Turk, and Matt Bubis, the Microbe Wrestling team finished with a strong dual meet record of ten wins to only one loss. Also, the team won the MBA Middle School Duals and the Indian Classic Invitational. With HVAC champions Ben Bellet, Brents Herron, Ben Turk, and Matt Bubis, the team finished a strong season as HVAC tournament runner-up.

Baseball

The team finished 8 and 11 with three opportunities to take home some hardware, but they came up just short each time. One of the biggest highlights was beating Ensworth who they run-ruled by eleven in the fifth inning.

Lacrosse

Led by captains Ben Turk, Clay Caroland, and Ryan Burns, the team had an outstanding season. After many wins against big MBA rivals, the team headed to the SouthEast Championship. Facing a team, Lovett, that they had lost to once before, they edged out a close victory to become champions.

Back Row (l-r): Coach Schaffer, C.J. Hurt, Coach Michael Marro, Jonathan Ray, Coach Dan Cooper; Fourth Row (l-r): Davis Martin, Bailey Neal, Charlie Sharbel, Bill Stringfellow, Cage Spoden, Jack Eakin, Jonathan Gotterer; Third Row (l-r): Colin Brier-Braxton, Tom Nagle, Tyler Bond, Jon Waldo, William Chapman, Michael Vasilevskis, Grant Thomas, Caldwell Tanner, Matthew Christie; Second Row (l-r): Blake Frazier, Brents Herron, Stephen Wieck, David Victor, Roderick Tisdale, Jesse Wright, Nick Shockey, Matt Eskind, David Pass; Front Row (l-r): Ryan Burns, Ben Turk, Clay Caroland

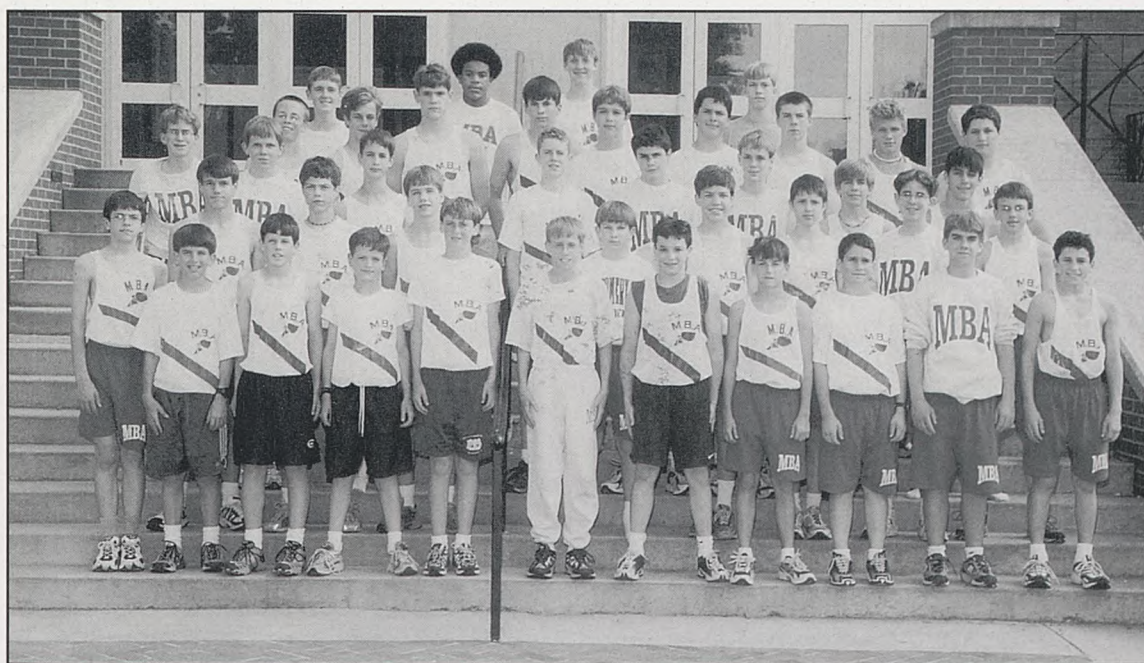

Tennis

The microbe tennis team had a phenomenal season. Finishing in second place during the regular season behind only Woodland Middle School, the team set out to avenge their second place status in the HVAC tournament. With Charlie Boyd and Daniel Patten each with second place finishes in the tournament, and Craig Stewart, Brian Syverud and Brock Baker, and Stuart Cook and Patrick Bradley all winning first place in the tournament, the team came out victorious in the HVAC tournament for the first time since 1995. Much thanks to Coach Haywood Moxley for his support and enthusiasm.

Track

Back Row (l-r): Andrew Pitman, Brenton Harrison, Tom Campbell, Matthew Cate; Fourth Row (l-r): James Hollis, Brock Baker, Hughes Tipton, Taylor Gould, Will Fitzgerald, Joseph Birdsong, Luke Brown, Jeffrey Glaser, Matt Bubis; Third Row (l-r): Matthew Doster, Cotton Clark, Andrew Barge, Boone High, Alex Holt, Nicholas Marzialo, Michael Schumacher, Richard Greathouse; Second Row (l-r): Michael Young, Eastman Landry, Bryant Hahnfeldt, McGavock Johnson, Trevor Redding, David Reynolds, Will Camarata, John Lee, Michael Pierce; First Row (l-r): Lex Lechleiter, Joseph Bibb, Andy Alsentzer, Mac Keith, Erik Swanson, Nick Luna, Hayes Ragan, Matt Turney, Clint Atkins, Kyle Mayo

Although the microbe team, coached by Mr. O'Neal, Mrs. Christeson, and Mr. Gaither, finished a disappointing fourth in the HVAC finals, they had another great season with a record of seven wins and two losses. Strong showings by Matthew Bubis in discus and Eastman Landry in the mile were highlights throughout this season.

Father's Club

The Fathers Club assists the school through fund-raisers and volunteer efforts. Each year the Fathers Club mans the refreshment stands at athletic events and helps out with a number of other school activities. The Fathers Club enriches the life of the school both tangibly (through donations of funds for student and faculty benefit) and intangibly (through their ongoing support of all phases of school life). This year's officers were: Mr. Jess Andrews (President), Mr. Johnny Gruber (Vice-President), Mr. Richard Jones (Secretary/Treasurer), and Mr. Milton Maxwell (Head of Concessions). With the help of the class fathers in every grade, the Fathers Club has coordinated numerous events that have enriched the MBA community in many ways. The highlight of the year for the Fathers Club was the annual Father-Son Banquet, which was a huge success this year. Jack's Barbecue catered the event, and the crowd of hundreds enjoyed the meal as they conversed with others in a casual atmosphere. When the program started, the school chorus and jazz band treated the masses to a series of great musical selections. Then four MBA seniors, Chris Bateman, Adam Brooks, Jesse Bull, and William Floyd, delivered short speeches about their fathers and how important an influence they were in their lives. Then the guest speaker, University of Florida head football coach Steve Spurrier, spoke about his experiences in life both on the football field and off. Overall it was a memorable evening for everyone, and those who attended greatly enjoyed their time and felt privileged to hear such a distinguished speaker as Coach Spurrier.

Mother's Club

The Mother's Club, led by President Mrs. Jan Pass and Vice President Mrs. Peggy Rosenblatt, assists the school through fund-raisers and volunteer efforts. Each year the Mothers Club puts on the Spaghetti Supper in conjunction with Homecoming; in a typical year some 4,000-5,000 people attend this event. The Mothers Club also volunteers to help with a host of activities at the school, including coordination of Class Mothers, community awareness, maintaining media notices about the school, hospitality for school functions, holiday decorations and gifts, mailings to parents, publicity, running the School Store, assisting with sports publications, maintaining the Sunshine Fund to provide flowers and reminders in times of difficulty, and organizing the annual Used Book Sale. The Mothers Club enriches the life of the school both tangibly (through donations of funds for student and faculty benefit) and intangibly (through their ongoing support of all phases of school life).

Totomoi

Totomoi, MBA's honorary fraternity founded in 1954, recognizes juniors and seniors who have shown outstanding leadership in academic achievement, athletics, service to the school and community, and contributions in upholding the motto, "Integrity, Loyalty, and Service." Induction into Totomoi is considered the school's highest honor for a student, alumnus, or staff member.

Cum Laude

Cum Laude, a national high school society equivalent to Phi Beta Kappa, recognizes the highest academic standing among its inductees. Induction into Cum Laude represents the highest degree of academic excellence at MBA. To be eligible, one must take honors courses, and membership is decided by cumulative grade average. Members are inducted through a vote (China style) by the current membership of the society. This year's ceremony, held on Wednesday, February 21st, was highlighted with an assembly speech from Vanderbilt University professor Dr. John Compton. Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Gibbs Room to honor the new members' achievements.

This past year, thirteen seniors were honored as Finalists for their excellent performance on the 2000 PSAT/NMSQT. Many were deemed National Merit Commendees and Semifinalists for their high scores. Their recognition in the National Merit Scholarship competition is well-deserved and rightly earned. Congratulations to those honored.

The purpose of the Junior Honor Society is to recognize those students who have distinguished themselves academically during their early years at MBA. In order to be eligible, a student must have three consecutive semesters with an average of ninety or better. After six semesters have been completed in the high school, students are no longer members of the Junior Honor Society. Congratulations to the young men who were inducted this year.

Honor Council

Established in 1945 under Headmaster R.L. Sager, the Honor Council is a twelve-member judicial panel, comprised of four seniors, three juniors, two sophomores, two freshmen, and one eighth grader, selected annually by the students to uphold the honor and integrity of the school. The group fairly adjudicates each case in order to justly enforce the honor code. This past year, the Honor Council was led by President Cal Alexander and Vice-President Stephen Smith.

Student Council

The Student Council, the governing body elected every year by the students, organizes events such as Soup Kitchen, Homecoming, and casual days. This year, the Council expanded its service role by coaching the athletes involved in the Special Olympics. With faculty sponsor Mr. Carr and senior leadership from President Miller Harris, Vice-President Reid Murphy, Secretary Leighton Liles, and Treasurer Brad Miller, the Student Council once again fulfilled their duties.

Revitalized by the leadership of Carpetbagger-in-Chief Thompson Paine for its fifty-seventh volume, the Bell Ringer reclaimed its past glory by releasing nine highly praised issues. Juniors Michael Pass and Steven Syverud were assistant editors during the first semester and were named Co-Editors-in-Chief for the second. The paper published student perspectives on all the latest going-ons at MBA.

The Bell Breaker

In it's third year since being created by Thompson Paine, the Bell Breaker continued in the National Lampoon tradition. With such educational articles as "MBA Webmail: Big Brother Is Watching Us After All" and "Courageous Sophomore Elicits Apology from Senior Class For Years of Hazing," the Bell Breaker filled the comical void around the MBA campus.

Archives

This past year, MBA again published two editions of its award-winning literary magazine Archives. This year's theme of revolution was evident in the Vanguard issue of the first semester and the second issue in the spring. With critically-acclaimed student poetry, prose, and artwork in both issues, this year's magazines were very creative. Under the leadership of faculty advisor Dr. Wayne Batten along with seniors Johnathan Mirian, Jesse Bull, and Will Bruce, and juniors Peter Callister and Ryan Mirian, this year's issues were once again a great success.

Top of the Hill

Philosophy Society

In its second year, the Philosophy Society, lead by Jesse Bull and Chris Bateman, met once a month to discuss philosophical topics such as religion and bio-ethics with Vanderbilt University professor Dr. Compton. Invigorated by Jesse Bull's famous chips and salsa, the society attempted to follow in the footsteps of Aristotle and Plato.

Service Club

The Service Club, MBA's community service organization, participated in a multitude of projects this year to help the Nashville community. The JFK quotation in the weight room, "For those to whom much is given, much is required" embodies MBA's Service Club. Blessed with the generosity of Board members Mr. Gambill and Mr. Wilson, who allowed the Service Club to use their properties at Braid Electric and Vanderbilt Place, respectively, to park cars for Titans and Vanderbilt football games, the Service Club was able to raise the $22,500 necessary to partner in building a Habitat for Humanity home. The Habitat project is the most noteworthy and visible project the club undertook this year. However, the weekly staple projects were the ones that embodied the "small service is true service" motto of the Service Club. These projects included tutoring at St. Vincent de Paul School and the Boys and Girls Club and working with the elderly at the Belcourt Terrace Nursing Home. The most notable weekend forays included helping with the Southern Book Festival, Releaf Nashville, the Student Council's monthly Soup Kitchen, housebuilds with Affordable Housing and Pulse, the Second Harvest Food Bank, the Christmas Village, and Pulse Day. This year's Service Club was led by President Sumeet Vaikunth and Co-vice-presidents Johnathan Mirian and Jesse Bull. Drew Conrad, Jamey Dickens, and David Pfeffer were the other senior officers, and Ryan Mirian, Tipton Horn, Andy Gray, Will Howorth, and Walt Sharpton comprised the junior members of the club's executive committee. Many thanks to Dr. Springer and Mr. Womack for providing their time and energy as faculty sponsors during the course of the year.

Recycle MBA

Recycle MBA is an organization that recycles paper, cardboard, and aluminum cans on campus. Bins are located in each building for students and teachers to store recyclables. When the bins become full, Recycle MBA members transport the recyclables to the maintenance shed from which they are taken to either Nashville Tech or Hillsboro High for recycling by the President and Vice President of the club. This year, Sumeet Vaikunth and Scott Sagen served in these positions and, along with faculty sponsor Mr. Moxley, were successfully able to continue MBA's commitment to recycling. Thanks to Mrs. Patrick for notifying members when bins were full in Ball, Mrs. Power for keeping the roll of bags, and the maintenance staff for providing the bags.

Government Club

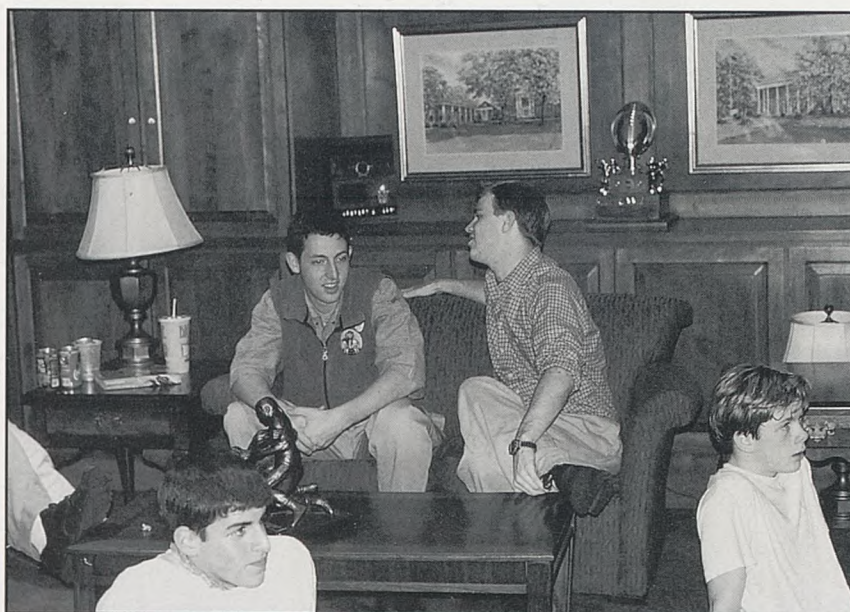

Created this year by President Michael Pass and Faculty Sponsor Mr. Coverstone, the government club met twice a month to discuss local, national, and international politics. In November, the club had its largest turn-out of the year to watch election night returns of the 2000 presidential election. Two weeks later, students voiced their opinions about the election and its controversiality. After the election and its discussion ended, the club focused on topics such as the death penalty. Specifically, the case of Phillip Workman was discussed as the Reverend Joe Ingle came to MBA to give a lecture about his views against the death penalty. Additional topics discussed were U.S. relations with China, current happenings in the Congress and the White House, and controversial Supreme Court decisions.

International Club

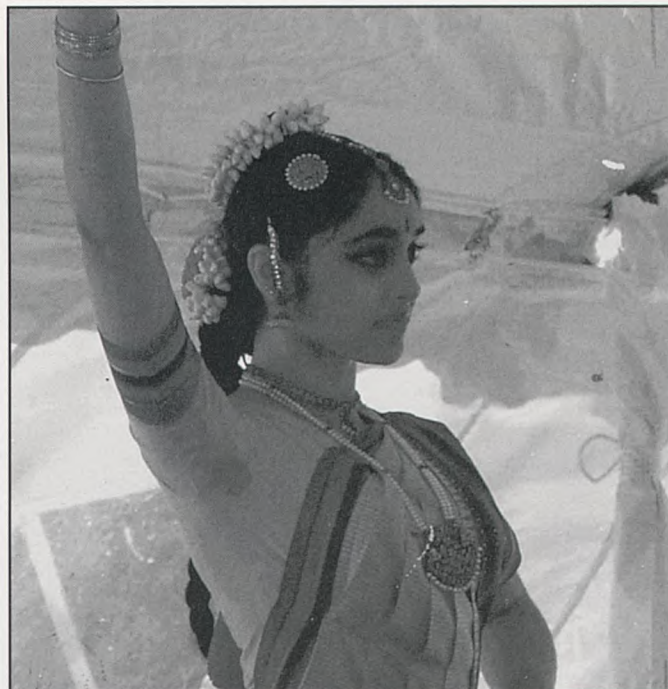

The Montgomery Bell Academy International Club continued to expand its role during the 2000-2001 school year. Under the guidance of its two expert teachers, Mrs. Gomez and Mr. Wendtorf, the International Club had one of its best years. Its goal was to learn about other cultures in order to gain a better perspective of its members' place in the world. Indeed, the members were delighted to listen to informative talks. One of the best was given by a writer from India who was attending Vanderbilt. She illustrated the culture of India very well as she explained the customs and traditions of such an interesting place to them. Of course, the best talk was given by Mr. Kelly. He illuminated such a great picture of Ireland that many of them could picture its majestic beauty and vibrant culture in their minds. Not only did the International Club organize speakers for the student body, it also represented MBA at Harpeth Hall's annual international food festival. In addition, the International Club played a supportive role in helping to put on MBA's own international fair. Special recognition should be given to the junior class (class of 2002) for providing excellent leadership at all meetings and events. They look forward to expanding the role of the International Club next year.

Debate

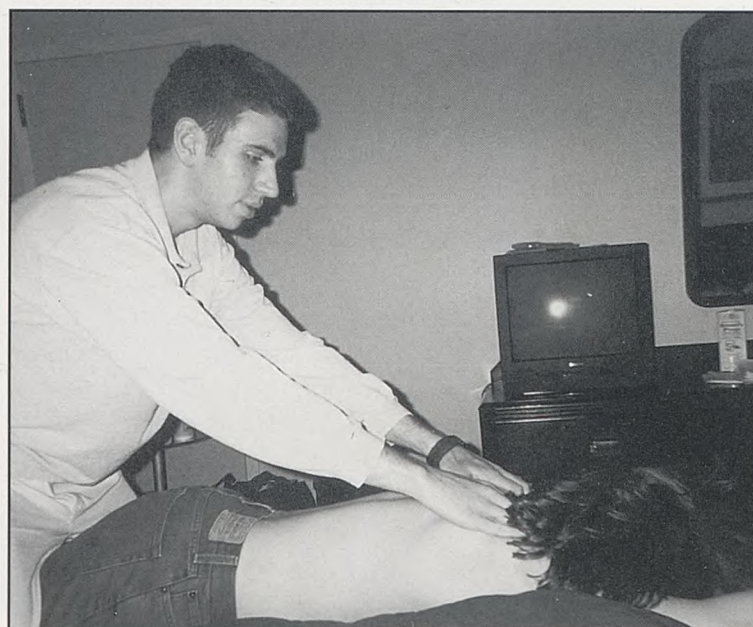

The team was very successful again this year. Seniors – Trey Tally, Paul Johnson, Ian McDaniel, Scott Lewis, Josh Rosenblatt, Jonathan Mott, and Paul Pope – junior – Jamie Carroll – sophomores – Vivek Surti, Joe Overton, David McNamee, Michael Ross – and freshman – John Patton and Chris Starko – comprised the team. The varsity began the year with the tournament at Wake Forest University where all three senior teams made it to the elimination rounds. Next, at the Decatur High School tournament, four teams made it to the quarterfinals, two to the semifinals, and Ian McDaniel and Trey Tally captured the championship. The team continued its successes at the New Trier High School tournament, where three varsity teams, including Vivek and Jamie, made it to the elimination rounds. Soon after, the team cleared two varsity teams to the elimination rounds once again at the St. Marks High School tournament, but failed to advance. The team regained its momentum by winning the Homewood High School tournament with the team of Trey Tally and Paul Pope and the team of Ian McDaniel and Paul Johnson as co-champions. The pairs then became finalist and quarterfinalist, respectively, at the University of Kentucky tournament. Continuing with the success, the team of Trey Tally and Paul Pope made it to the quarterfinals and the team of Scott Lewis and Paul Johnson made it to the semifinals at the University of Redlands tournament. During the cold winter of the new year, Trey Tally and Paul Pope managed several victories in the Boston College Round Robin. Next, MBA debate had three teams in the quarterfinals of the Samford University tournament and one team in the quarterfinals of the Vestavia Hills High School tournament. Soon after, MBA qualified one team to the National Forensic League championship tournament with the district qualifiers win. The novice team had significant success in Iowa by winning 2nd place, and the junior varsity team took 2nd at the Woodward High School tournament. Finally, MBA debate finished the year by qualifying two teams to the Tournament of Champions at the University of Kentucky, where Trey Tally and Paul Pope concluded their partnership with a winning record. The team would like to thank Mr. Tate, Mr. Coverstone, Mr. Wilson, the MBA librarians, and numerous others.

Mock Trial

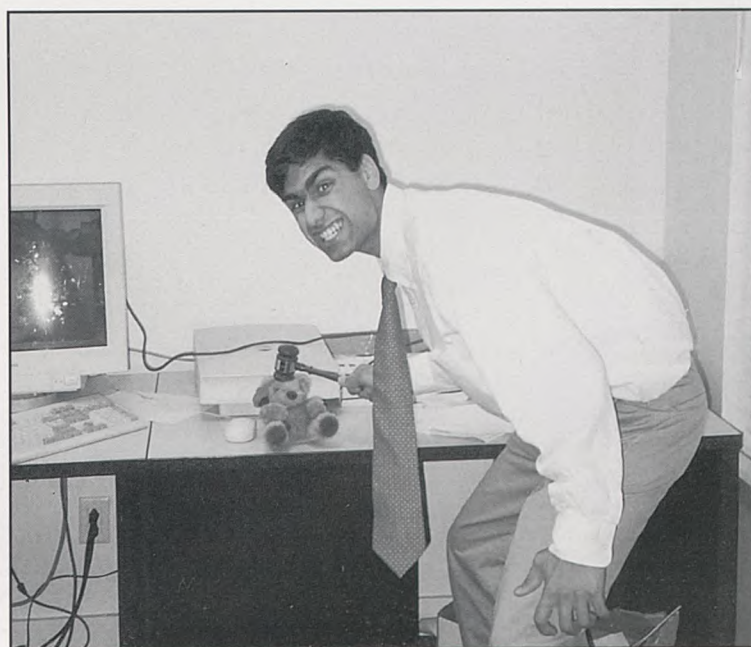

In Mock Trial this year, the case involved a fraternity hazing incident. For the prosecution, the lawyers were seniors Sumeet Vaikunth and Johnathan Mirian, and sophomore Timothy Vaughn, while witnesses were played by Jay Howell, Harry Kuntz, and Josh Mayhew. The defense lawyers were sophomores Andrew Quinn and Matt Conrad, and senior Sumeet Vaikunth. Defense witnesses were freshmen Neal Idnani and Jonathan Doerr (who won the Best Defense Witness award), and sophomore J.B. Spaulding, the defendant. After about 3 weeks of practice with attorney coaches Wade Cowan, Kristin Anderson, and Rebecca DeMorey, the team headed to the county courthouse downtown for the competition. The team defeated Hume Fogg, Hillwood, and DCA in rounds one, two, and four, but lost to defending champion and perennial powerhouse Harpeth Hall in the third round. However, MBA got a chance to win the city championship in the final round, again powermatched against the Honeybears. In a close match, Harpeth Hall was able to win with the help of the one female judge who calls the shots every time MBA and Harpeth Hall face each other, and the Big Red plummeted from 2nd place coming into the championship round to 8th place after the round due to the scoring system. The team was actually the second best team to Harpeth Hall and should have qualified for the state tournament (as the top two teams advance). Nevertheless, if the rising sophomores and freshmen stick together, MBA will return to its Mock Trial dominance of the early and mid 90's.

Chorus

A year that Dr. Cassel predicted to be a rebuilding year has turned into a year of beautiful music. Performing at dinners, assemblies, and concerts in Welsh, Latin, French, Swahili and English, the MBA chorus explored diverse styles ranging from funeral dirges to lullabies to modern jingles. The season's highlight was their awe-inspiring performance of the Fauré Requiem, a concert that combined the powerhouse MBA chorus and the Nashville Symphony with the ethereal beauty of the Saint Cecilia Academy Chorus and the Harpeth Hall Chorus. The talented, loquacious Dr. Cassel and the musically superb Ms. Jan Sadler, who picks up the slack Dr. Cassel leaves, conducted this virtuoso chorus. Together they would wow crowds and cover for the jazz band, who did not realize the Jazz Band Room is exactly the same size as the Chorus Room. Despite suffering a loss of a big bass, the group persevered. The MBA Chorus would like to extend its heartfelt appreciation to all those whose support made this season a success.

Jazz Band

The MBA Jazz Band had a busy and exciting year. Under the instruction of Mr. Steve Rundberg and Ms. Jan Sadler, the band entertained many a crowd with some well-performed jazz tunes. The selection of music this year ranged from blues to Latin to pure, classic jazz. Along with numerous concerts throughout the year, the Jazz Band put together a variety of other performances at many other events. During the football and basketball seasons, a smaller group of members played in the pep band and helped to keep the excited MBA home crowd entertained. The band also played in a few assemblies, the Father-Son Dinner (with local performer Jimmy Hall), the Mother-Son Breakfast, both the Alumni Dinner and Picnic, and the Spaghetti Supper. A smaller group of members was selected to play in the MBA Ellington Band, which had a concert to celebrate the musical legacy of Duke Ellington. This year the band had the privilege to have a visiting jazz band from Peru come to MBA to put on a concert and assembly performance. Overall this was a memorable year for the Jazz Band, and the school community appreciated their many contributions to the events they played.

FCA

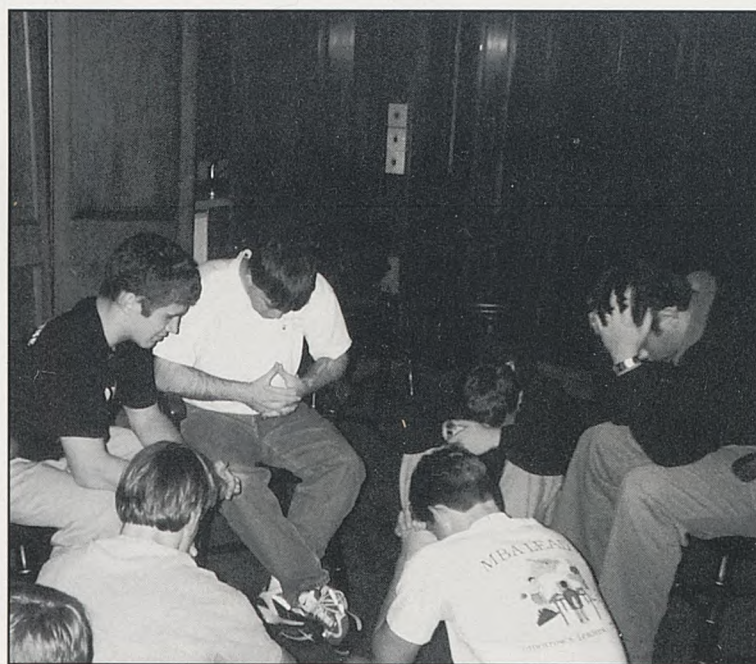

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes has truly been blessed this year. God has brought many incredible people with awesome talents to the meetings this year, and they have been able to share their faith with the new people who have been coming to the meetings. Musicians, professional athletes, and coaches have come to tell the fellowship how they have been able to use their talents to glorify God. The Lord has brought many talented worship leaders who have played musical instruments to aid students in their worship. The meetings have been very uplifting in the middle of a stressful week allowing those in FCA to take time out and glorify their Lord. FCA has grown in number this year, and God will continue to bless it in the future and put leaders in it who will allow themselves to be used for God's glory.

Outing Club

The outing club started the year off with a two-day trip to Fiery Gizzard led by Mr. Russell and Mr. Womack. After taking a long trail down the "river," the group was delighted by the sight of several wonderful chimney rock formations. Next, they had a tough ascent from the bottom of the gorge over a number of boulders and large rocks that made travel difficult, but they continued even though rain started to make footing treacherous. Exhausted, they all turned in for the night at a nearby campsite. However, it was all worth the awesome view of the crystal blue sky. The spring break trip led by Mr. Russ was also a very memorable experience. This trip consisted of slugging through shin-deep snow and hiking forty-four miles on the Appalachian Trail. Throughout the journey, the group was treated to fantastic views of the countryside. All the students believe the trip was truly worth enduring the cold and snowy weather. Overall, the outing club had another fantastic year.

Assemblies

This year's assemblies, although exceedingly long at times, were both informative and entertaining. In addition to the usual announcements and speeches led by Mr. Gioia, there were also a variety of distinguished speakers and captivating presentations. Some of the memorable presentations included student-produced videos, musical performances by both the MBA music program and by a visiting Peruvian jazz band, scenes from MBA plays, and international presentations from exchange students Nick Ash and Christoph Schmitz. The MBA student body also had the privilege of hearing a number of speakers who were able to enlighten many with their wise words and interesting stories. Tom Fitzgerald and MBA Hockey Coach Robin Walsh promoted MBA's hockey program. Lanny Davis, Special Counsel to the White House, told how he thought any situation can be exploited with the right approach. David Ewing gave a speech on black history month and what it should mean. Chancellor Gee from Vanderbilt University talked about his past. At the Cum Laude induction ceremony, Dr. Compton spoke on his experiences as a professor of philosophy and gave everyone some inspiration to pursue a higher level of thinking. In a special assembly, Air Force General Thomas Kane tried to persuade students to consider a career in the armed services. National Teacher of the Year, Marilyn Whirry, provided some motivation for MBA teachers to give their students the best education possible. Cultural Awareness Week saw a number of speakers present world religions, including Rabbi Ken Kanter on Judaism, Mr. Whitfield and Mrs. Patrick on the Baha'i faith, Sujatha Yargaladda on Hinduism, and MBA alumnus David Tune on Buddhism. These assemblies were always an enjoyable way to start the week off, as students and faculty alike received valuable information and were moved by the touching speeches.

Theater Club

The theater club is an organization in which any student interested in theater can meet with fellow students who share the same interest and can participate in MBA theater productions. All of the theater club members were either actors or part of the technical crew in at least one of MBA's four productions. This year the club was led by president William Kaminski, vice-president Jonathan Batchelor, and faculty sponsor and MBA theater director Dr. Cal Fuller. The group assists in set design, helps actors learn their lines, and does other odd jobs necessary to make the show go on. Therefore, the group is a vital part of the MBA theater company.

Damn Yankees

This joint Harpeth Hall and MBA musical told the age-old Faust story set in the ball park of the Washington Senators in the 1950's. The eighty-man cast and crew was called by director Cal Fuller and choreographer Stephen Hamilton into rehearsal in late July of 2000, and delivered a record six performances to more audience members than had ever attended a previous MBA production. Seniors John Voigt and Aaron Manier led the cast as "Shoeless" Joe Hardy and Mr. Applegate, respectively. Excellent performances were also delivered by Harpeth Hall juniors Audrey Ball, as Lola, and Jessica Turk, as reporter Gloria Thorpe, and senior Liz Edwards, as Meg Boyd. Perhaps the most unforgettable component to the show was the ten-man baseball team with Dr. John Griffith as manager Benny Van Buren. The team, led by seniors Tucker Robinson, Adam Brooks, Cal Alexander, and Charlie Harris, put on their "Jazz shoes" and took the stage to prove the MBA stereotype wrong by delivering several incredible dance numbers comparable to the magnificence of the Harpeth Hall dancers.

Golden Boy

The second production of the season, playing November 30th through December 3rd, was Clifford Odet's Golden Boy. Continuing the Faustian theme of Damn Yankees, this modern tragedy tells the story of Joe Bonaparte, a talented violinist, living in 1937 New York City, who chooses fist over fiddle to gain fame and fortune by becoming a boxer. The audience follows Joe between his home and family and the world of seedy characters surrounding the boxing business. The extremely realistic characters written by Odets allowed the Theatre R&P class, who made up much of the cast, to put into practice the Stanislavski method of acting that they learned at the beginning of the year. Everyone did a wonderful job in this truly collaborative piece so it is hard to name all of the individuals who had great performances. Outstanding performances came from John Voigt as the conflicted Joe Bonaparte, and John Humbracht as Joe's Italian father. Tucker Robinson and Catherine Nading acted masterfully as Tom Moody and Lorna Moon, bringing out the conflicting and emotional aspects of their complex relationship. Jason Sanders and Jessica Turk who played the young couple, Ziggy and Anna, made the audience laugh, but also displayed the intensity of their relationship. William Kaminski truly stood out as the snake, Eddie Fuseli. He acted with his whole body, intimidating the other characters on stage as well as giving the audience chills with the sliminess of his character. The success of this play, in addition to the cohesiveness of the cast, must also be attributed to the technical direction of a new addition to the theatre department, Mr. Malcolm Morrison.

Sueño

The third play of the year was Sueño, an updated version of the 17th century Spanish play, Life is a Dream, by Pedro Calderon de la Barca. The MBA players successfully dealt with the difficult philosophical questions of this play which contrasts Spanish tradition with Renaissance ideals and the proper code of action in reality and in dreams. A cast featuring actors of all ages tackled the lofty and often lewd language of this play. Charlie Pate, as Clarin the Crowd, not only provided comic relief, but also set the mood for the play with his enchanting melodies on his mandolin. Hunter Mobley, playing the self-loving and extravagant King Basilio, gave a brilliant performance. Jason Sanders, as Seqismundo, delivered many beautiful, long speeches extremely well, displaying man versus beast within his character. Charlie Harris and Jenny Andrews played the unforgivable duo, Astolpho and Estrella, who would stop at nothing to win King Basilio's throne. While alone on stage they entertained the audience with their hilarious and a bit risque escapades and devious schemes. The cast and crew of Sueño put many hours into creating an incredible set which included a Copernican solar system on the floor with constellations that appeared with a blacklight. The MBA players pulled Sueño off solidly and understandably despite its quirkiness and its intricate themes.

One Acts

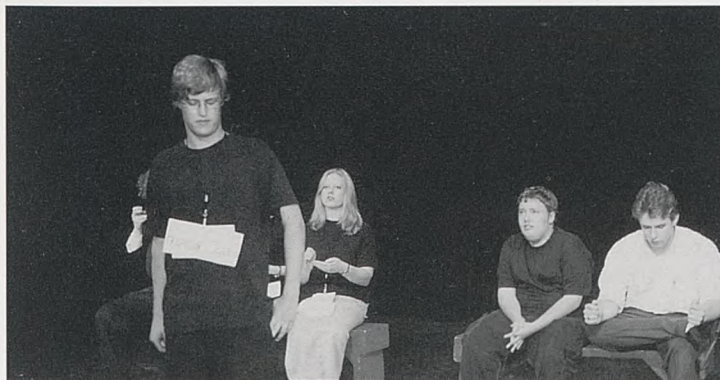

The final production of the 2000 - 2001 MBA theater season was the student directed MEGA ONE ACTS playing on May 10th, 11th, and 13th. The evening was composed of six individual one-act plays: Tennessee Williams's The Case of the Crushed Petunias, directed by Charlie Harris; Christopher Durang and Wendy Wasserstein's parody Medea, directed by Mark Wheeler; Elaine May's Adaptation, directed by Jonathan Batchelor; Edward Albee's FAM and YAM, directed by Aaron Manier; Christopher Durang's Desire, Desire, Desire, directed by Jason Sanders; and Christopher Durang's For Whom the Southern Belle Tolls, directed by William Kaminski. The directors had worked on these plays since the second quarter of Dr. Fuller's first-time theatre R&P class and were well prepared to deliver a knockout evening of brilliant acting and hysterical laughter. Among a very talented cast, Jay Harbison stood out especially by giving a sidesplitting performance in Adaptation and then by portraying Lawrence the semi-retarded hypochondriac in For Whom the Southern Belle Tolls.

Art

On Wednesday, May 16th, the annual Student Art Opening showcased artwork from all the students in Studio Art I, II, and III AP. Senior Art III AP portfolios draped the walls of the first floor of Davis and the Gibbs Room, while Art II, Art I, and Art Enrichment work adorned the rest of the walls on the second floor. To celebrate the great show, a reception was held in the Gibbs Room at 5:00 for all who attended. Art III AP students included Cal Alexander, Lee Ballard, Myles Bennett, B.J. Billips, Brad Boyd, Adam Brooks, Jesse Bull, Edward Coble, Will Greathouse, Dan Herring, John Humbracht, William Kaminski, Davis Lentz, Brad Miller, and Paul Steele. As always, the art show was organized by art teachers Jim Womack, Rosie Paschall, and Rashida Browne.

Project Graduation Disco

On March 31, the school held its annual Disco Dance to raise money for Project Graduation. The floor of the Paschall Theater became a full-fledged disco club complete with mirror ball, psychedelic lighting, and a stage. As the crowd grooved to some old-school 70's classics thanks to DJ Andrew Berg (who happened to be victim of a broken leg that night), there was much gettin' down. Gold chains and afro wigs were everywhere, and there was enough booty for everyone to enjoy. Much thanks goes to those who helped set up the event which was a huge success and raised lots of money for the seniors' Project Graduation.

Prom

On April 28th, 2001, the limousines pulled up outside the Brownlee O. Curry, Jr. Gymnasium, and juniors and seniors stepped out with their sharp, black tuxedos and their gorgeous dates. The senior dinner in Paschall Theatre was once again a big hit with many varieties of pasta, vegetables, and of course, the beef for the men. The close quarters allowed for socializing with friends, and the tables permitted a chance to sit down and eat. Dessert consisted of heavenly chocolate cake and scrumptious cheesecake. While everyone feasted on the dessert, the senior superlatives were read by Mr. Kelly, whose Irish accent drove the women wild. Afterwards, the seniors and their dates were presented to the parents and faculty in the gym. The theme for this year's prom was A Midsummer Night's Dream, and the set featured an enchanted forest with fog at everyone's feet. The band, Delicious, transported everyone back to the seventies and eighties while they boogied down. At eleven-thirty it was time to leave, and everyone piled back to their limousines to continue the party. Everyone who attended appreciated the hard work of the junior class, Mr. Gaither, Mrs. Orth, and Mr. Morrison in planning and executing the 2001 Junior-Senior Prom.

Project Graduation

Held at Vanderbilt's University Club, this year's Project Graduation turned out to be lots of fun for everyone who attended. Each member of the Class of 2001 won at least one useful prize, and some were lucky enough to win the grand prizes which included Sony Playstation Twos, Sony stereo systems, a Toshiba DVD player, a $400 Citizen watch, and golf drivers valued at $1000. There was a casino with blackjack and roulette tables, ping-pong, pool, foosball, air hockey, and an arcade to occupy the graduates and their guests from 11:00 p.m. to 5:00 a.m. Additionally, the University Club chefs provided subs, tacos, and ice cream sundaes for all to snarf. The event marked the last time together for the Class of 2001 after six years on the Hill. Thanks to the parents and sponsors for making Project Graduation a success.

After winning two state championships in the last three years, the MBA cross country team hit the pavement this summer with high expectations for the upcoming season. Losing only two varsity runners off a team that finished second in last year's state meet, the Big Red appeared primed to make a run for the title. Upon completion of a strenuous summer workout program, MBA received its first test in the twenty-second annual Drake Invitational. Paced by Morgan Miller's impressive time of 16:10, the Big Red dominated the field and secured the first victory of the season. The following meet found the team

The next weekend found the team at the much anticipated State Meet. With the return of the team's spiritual mentor, Jeff Sweeney, into the line-up, the team had great hopes for the state. In a meet where five of our top seven runners ran personal best times, the coaching staff and runners were pleased with a fourth place finish against the toughest competition in years. With six of our top seven runners returning next year, the Big Red has high expectations for the year 2002. The team thanks the Seniors, Brad Boyd, Dan Herring, Drew Conrad, and Jeff Sweeney, and Coaches, DeYoung, Pruitt, and Russ, for their leadership through this past season.

Entering the season with a nineteen-game winning streak and two consecutive TSSAA Division II state championship titles, the football team realized there would be some high expectations. The team proved that it could live up to these expectations, closing the season with a thirty-one-game winning streak and a third consecutive state title while maintaining a national ranking in USA Today for the entire season. With two early home wins over Lincoln County and Oakland, and a 23-7 victory at Baylor after trailing at the half, the Big Red looked to be off to a solid start. Then the team flew to Jacksonville to take on the Bolles School. In extremely wet conditions, the Big Red had a difficult time handling the ball and suffered a 3-26 loss. However, a few weeks later this loss became a win by forfeit when it was discovered that Bolles had used an ineligible player. With wins against MUS, Pearl-Cohn, and Brentwood Academy, the team took a 7-0 record into the homecoming game against then-undefeated McCallie. After taking a quick 21-0 lead in the first half, the Big Red faced a McCallie comeback in the second half. With the score tied at 21, MBA drove down the field in the final two minutes to set up a 53-yard field goal, which Ingle Martin nailed to provide a dramatic 31-0 win in Memphis over Christian Brothers and a 24-21 victory. To close out the season, MBA needed a surge in the second half. The BA team was not to be underestimated, even though the first meeting in the season led to a 26-0 MBA victory. The Big Red first got on the board with a safety sack by Zach Wall in the third quarter, then took an 8-7 lead early in the fourth quarter when Ingle Martin threw a touchdown pass to Dominique Morris. After a failed two-point conversion, the Big Red fought to keep the Eagles from scoring again. The game came down to a BA field goal attempt of fifty yards with only seconds left, but the kick was wide left by about a foot, giving MBA the ball back, an 8-7 win, and another state championship trophy. The team could not have been successful this year without great senior leadership, especially from captains Ingle Martin, Reid Murphy, Dominique Morris and Moses Osemwegie. Coach Bowers and his staff of assistant coaches did a great job in leading the team to its undefeated record and making the 102nd season of MBA football so victorious.

GOLF

On a hot August day at McCabe International, the MBA golf team quietly began its quest for a state title in the new millennium. After finishing a big slam, Coach Caldwell gave his classic motivational speech at tryouts, even though the returning lettermen had better things to occupy their time. When tryouts were finished, the final roster consisted of three senior captains Carter "monkey boy" Henderson, Graham "grimace, take those carts around and warsh'em" Worsham, Duncan "Captain D's please" Fort, as well as seniors Jeff "par cart" Young, Miller "milky white thighs" Harris, and Ed "fat shaft" Buchanan. Juniors Treat "steady decline" MacAllister, Brett "knob" Knoll (commonly mistaken for a microbe golfer) and sophomore John "I gotta study" Eason rounded out the squad with special guest appearances from Will Fuqua and Zane Owens. In the first match of the year at Belle Meade Country Club, the Big Red, lacking its two best players, cruised to victory over a cocky Father Ryan team. The team also defeated Ryan again at Henry Horton without any help from the team's only regular season setback came out in McCabe later in the season with no help from the The next triumph of the season came in the Bruin the team get a day off school, but they also captured "highly unlikely." Coach Caldwell insisted that we had "no chance," but the team did not take his negative attitude to heart. When the day was over Carter Henderson captured the individual title with a 68; with Duncan Fort's 76 (tied for 6th), Worsham's 77 and Brett Knoll's clinching putt on the last hole, the team was victorious by one shot. Treat MacAllister struggled to an 88 with a bruised hand. Miller Harris's claim to fame occurred in the team's final head-to-head match against Brentwood Academy. Miller came through in the clutch, shooting a 37 to lead the Big Red to victory and becoming the only player in MBA history to receive a warm embrace from a grateful Coach Caldwell. The only difficult match came against Father Ryan at McCabe when the team was without Treat (traffic court) and Duncan (suspension due to breach of "not gonna have it"). Thankfully, Jeff Young proved to be of some worth to the MBA community for the first time in his so called golfing career when he lead the Big Red to victory with a 37 in his final match. In what is still a questionable event, Ed Buchanan claims to have eagled the last hole at McCabe from the fairway with a pitching wedge; witnesses were Ray Charles, Ronny Milsaps, and Debbie. On another nice day off from school, the Big Red achieved total domination in Region at Highland Rim in coach's "backyard". Carter Henderson finished first with 69, Graham finished fourth with a 72 while Duncan and Treat finished tied for sixth with a pair of 74's. The State tournament was a complete and utter disaster for the Big Red with the exception of the three days away from our vigorous studies. The 2001 golf team had the honor of defeating Father Ryan all six times during the season. On the bright side, a fourth place finish in State was an ironic first in the brilliant coaching career of Mr. Hugh M. Caldwell, math wizard extraordinaire.

The 2000-2001 MBA basketball team featured the class of 2001's seven senior basketball players: Evan Abrahams, Matthew Bills, Carter Henderson, Steve Ingram, Ingle Martin, Dominique Morris, and Moses Osemwegie. Even though the team was the smallest MBA team in the last decade, it was full of speed and strength. Matthew Bills and Ingle Martin were the point guards, Evan Abrahams and Carter Henderson the shooters, Dominique Morris and Moses Osemwegie the posts, and Steve Ingram the fill-in-the-blank on the stat sheet player. The team had a rather mediocre start in which it went 5-4 through the end of 2000 with wins coming against Goodspasture, USN, Hillsboro, Marion County-Kentucky, and CPA, and losses to Gatlinburg Pitman, Cosby, MLK, and Scott County. After a refreshing New Year's Day 8 a.m. practice, the team went on to win six out of its next seven USN, and Henry County, but lost to Class A tough game. With a 10-5 record and the number through a three game slump, losing to BA, performance, the players came together and the season. The team closed out the regular season by winning 4 out of its last five games, as the team lost for the only time at home all season to Columbia, but went to Ryan and tail-gunned the Irish in the first half and preserved the victory in the second to clinch the #1 seed for the Region tournament. After beating USN, the Big Red played fairly well for most of the region championship game against Ryan, but when Ryan hit a three at the buzzer to send the game to overtime the Big Red were manhandled, settling for second in the region, but securing a berth in the Sectionals. At Sectionals, the Big Red dominated Chattanooga Notre Dame in the second half en route to a 27 point victory, setting up a state tournament semifinal with McCallie. In a rollercoaster game characterized by lengthy runs, the team made the final run of the game in the fourth quarter to pull out the 58-51 win after being down 44-33 at the end of the third. Sharp three-point shooting by captains Matthew Bills and Steve Ingram and a strong inside game by Dominique Morris and Moses Osemwegie led the team to the championship game against the Evil Empire on St. Patrick's day. However, the Irish had no luck escaping the full court trapping defense of MBA. Carter Henderson, Dominique Morris, Moses Osemwegie, and Ingle Martin scored in double digits. For the third time in four years, the 20-10 Big Red raised the gold ball in Murfreesboro as Steve Ingram and Dominique Morris were named to the All-Tournament team and Moses Osemwegie was named its MVP.

With a regular season record of 10-2 and a top ten national ranking, the MBA Big Red Bowling Machine continued its dominance in the highly competitive Tennessee Interscholastic Bowling League. Although the Associated Press labeled the 2000-2001 season a rebuilding year for the Big Red, MBA shot out of the gate with big wins over perennial powers FRA, Hume Fog, and MLK. On Media Day veteran coach Pete "Commander" Carr, while chewing grape flavored Big League and we have eight untested rookies on this year's friend Lou Holtz, is always quick to emphasize his team's obvious bowling prowess. This year's heavily recruited by major college bowling Clutch" Harris, Tom "Blue Ball" Paine, and Patrick University of North Carolina, where they are expected to make an immediate impact for the Tar Heels. John "Big Hook" Humbracht is being courted by the rising powerhouse Elon College, while several Middle Eastern nations are competing for the skilled but mainly boisterous Bill "Bowling" Alley. Rounding out the seniors on the team are Scott "Splits" Sagen and Jeff "Colt 45" Young who are both being recruited for their bowling expertise from the nation-state of Texas. Again things look very good for next year as rising stars Hunter "Hats Off" Oldacre, Brett "The Beast" Knoll, and the dynamic duo of Greg "Mr. Unselfish" Scruggs and Geoff "The Superior" Scruggs have all played pivotal roles in some big games this season. Montgomery Bell Academy's Bowling Program remains one of the best in the country, and after this outstanding season they are destined to rewrite the school's motto to "gentleman, scholar, bowler."

The MBA hockey team assembled in its second year to take on the fierce competition for the Predator's Cup. With a regular season record of 10-4, the Big Red had nothing to be sad about, finishing the season with an elimination from the playoffs in the third round. Once again led by Will Bruce, the team had more depth with many freshman players. New coaching this year led by Robin Walsh, Scotty, and Jack prepared the team. Stepping up to the challenge with the greatest contribution as a freshman was James Dade. James, with newcomer Benson Sloan, helped hold the Big Red defense together. Also, returning freshman, Dylan Richey, was able to score 2 goals, 2 assists, and 14 minutes in the penalty box. Nathan Dudney with his blinding speed notched himself several points throughout the season as well. And the heavy-weight down from Canada, Chris Starko played an instrumental part on and off the ice. From his pregame dances, to his slap shot goal in the 3rd round of the playoffs, he was a welcome addition to the team. Also contributing Bill Brown, and Walker Mathews. And finally at assist the team with its shortage of goalies. Aaron the Sophmores in points. Ray Walsh, although major factor on the ice for the Big Red. Also Stringfellow with his incredible team pride. Juniors were lead in points by James Pace. James brought to the team a strong sense of work ethic by playing both baseball and hockey at the end of the season. Gavin Richey, although out for the first part of the season while recovering from an injury and shoulder surgery, was able to make a strong comeback. And most instrumental to the Big Red's success was the goalie, Michael Wennerlund. Coming a long way from his performance last year, he made some amazing saves with his remarkable speed and skill in the net. Unfortunately, Will Fuqua, after suffering a wrist injury, was out for the season. Finally, there cannot be enough said about the seniors on this year's team. In only his second year, Brandon Gruber helped out with many points throughout the season. William Floyd brought an edge to the team. With his ritualistic pregame, he and Wennerlund were able to pump themselves up unlike any other two players. Using his strength, speed, and his great physical condition to his advantage, he was able to be a significant presence on the ice. Second in line with 25 points for the regular season, Floyd was a great help to the team. And now, leading the league in points and goals (for all those who don't know points are achieved by assists and goals) with 42 goals and 63 points. Playing almost the entire time in every game, Will was the one constant on the team, always performing with incredible skill. Not enough can be said about Will Bruce. He showed his silent leadership by giving a lecture when needed and never mistreating any of his teammates. Looked up to by everyone, Will is and will be a model of excellence in hockey and school. This year's hockey team will go into the books as a success.

If the 2000-01 swimming team were to be described in one word, it would have to be "strategery." With All-American Chris Kellam at the University of Florida, the swim team needed a new number one man. Fortunately, the void was filled by several men, "the Disciples of Swimming." Led by their savior coach, Steve Rundberg, these thirty or so men embarked on a crusade to convert the entire world into swimming fans. Also, this year witnessed the dawning of a new age in coaching- the Grey Carter administration. Coach Carter left what looked to be a bright future in rap to coach us. The tag team of Grey and Roundtree taught the disciples the dogmas of swimming: winning, improving, and humiliating our opponents. Originally scheduled for the season was a dual meet with Baylor, but they backed out after they heard about the incredible power of the Big Red Wave. Also, McCallie caught wind of the Big creating a fake snowstorm. Coming into the Region we had not had all our opportunities to thrash the out to a 68-point lead after diving. Unfortunately Harbison struggled with a stomach disease that

Jay severely handicapped, the swim team struggled to put points on the board due to its relatively small number of swimmers. But the team made outstanding strides in every relay, placing third in the 200 medley, 200 free, and 400 free relays. Cooper Moore, the Peter of the swimming disciples, laid down the law in the 500 free and 100 breast, while James Williams pillaged the 100 fly and 100 breast. Seniors Jake Brown and Drew Conrad robbed younger swimmers from Ryan and BA of precious points by destroying them in the pool and then laughing at their lack of masculinity. Sophomores Dan Landman and Paul Reynolds did their class proud by scoring many times. After a late start, eighth grader Paul Crook and junior Morgan Miller showed the other teams' swimmers how multi-sport athletes should perform. Senior Adam Diehl and eighth grade brother Van scored more points than all the swimmers in Rutherford County. Despite looking like a corpse, senior Jay Harbison muscled his way through a rough 200 free and two relays. Finally, this year saw a new diving dynasty emerge: MBA's divers scored 68 points out of 88 at the Region Meet. The fab four were senior Matthew McIntosh, junior Chris Vutsinas, and eighth graders PJ Fox and Spencer Cummings. The State was also a success. Cooper, James, Jake, Adam, Van, and Jay all scored points, and our relays did exceptionally well, including the defeat of heavily favored Baylor in the 200 medley relay. The crusade to convert students into swimming fans proved successful when one Dalton Franklin showed up to the Saturday night finals. The swim team is grateful for all support by faculty and students, and, as always, by parents. What is in store for the MBA swim team in years to come? Stay tuned, same Big Red time, same Big Red channel...

This year's wrestling season was characterized by proving MBA's Wrestling Prowess. The year began explosively by our handily defeating Springfield, Hillwood, Hillsboro, Overton, Hendersonville, Whites Creek and David Lipscomb. A trip to Ohio followed, and MBA was expected to go home winless, but the Big Red defeated all foreign competition, including some of the most prominent teams from Kentucky and Ohio. By defeating Brentwood Academy, but losing to the Irish of Father Ryan, the team placed second in the Region meet qualifying them for the State Duals tournament. A first round loss to favorite, and eventual champions Baylor, was redeemed by conquering defeats over Christian Brothers and McCallie, resulting in third place. In the two-day State Individuals Tournament, there were eleven place winners, including Phillip and Patrick Simpson who placed first. Phillip was voted the Most Outstanding Wrestler and secured his 4th State Championship (being only the second person in Tennessee to do so). Although the loss of all-American Phillip Simpson and leadership of other seniors, the team looks forward to an improved performance next year with talented young wrestlers such as William and Patrick Simpson, Will Howorth and sophomore Ian Thornhill.

The Big Red's first two games were easy wins as the team steamrolled over MTCS 24-1, and freshman Scott Pettus, striking out thirteen of his fifteen opponents, pitched a perfect game against the Hillwood Toppers. Next, the baseball team went to Florida for their spring training regiment. After five grueling days of games, the team emerged with a 3-3 overall record, one rain out, and a dip in their pride. Also, Ingle Martin joined the team and received an unofficial win in the fourth game of the tournament. When the Big Red returned, they grabbed two more wins against Harpeth and University School. MBA lost two games to Battle Ground Academy in the last inning of play. Finally the trip to the USA Classic was right around the corner. However, the tournament in Memphis was uneventful as the team lost all four games. The tournament placed the MBA record at 7-9, unofficially. The return of the team was met

After the week was over MBA had lost to BA twice, but had beaten them once, and had beaten Cheatham County again to set the record at 15-12. The next week was comprised of three games against Father Ryan and one versus Centennial. Unfortunately, the Big Red had some trouble and posted a week's record of 1-3, losing to Ryan all three games but beating Centennial 16-1. The team finished the following week strong with 3 wins: two that came against Davidson and one against Harpeth. The Region tournament was next on the agenda, and the team was ready to come out swinging. The first game was against MTCS, which the Big Red easily beat by a score of 10-0. But as the high of victory was wearing off, MBA suffered a defeat at the hands of BA, which put the team in the loser's bracket. The third game was against USN and was again an easy win for the Big Red. BGA was the next opponent for the Big Red. Winning meant going to the sub-state. Unfortunately the team lost to BGA and the season was over, setting the unofficial record at 21-17. The team must thank Coaches Woolsey and Wims for leading the team to another winning record. Warner Jones finished with the top Batting Average at .500, while Nathan Sensing had the most RBIs. Andrew Wilson had 10 HEADGE home runs, Scott Pettus struck out over half of his opponents, and Drake Jarman had the lowest ERA, around 2.00. The team will only lose four seniors this year: Nathan Sensing, Ed Miranda, Bill Alley and Ian McDaniel. Next year will be a great year for MBA Baseball. It was nasty, February nasty. Sick of sprints in Frist Hall, line drills on the baseball field, and lifting in the weight room, the varsity lacrosse team was eager to attack the swampy marsh that is the Harding Road field. Fighting the chill, each player looked toward the season with a blazing enthusiasm. 2001 was indeed a year to remember. Through all the sweat, injuries, and heartbreak, the MBA Varsity Lacrosse Team earned respect not only for MBA but also for Tennessee lacrosse. Led by eight outstanding seniors, the varsity squad competed with some of the nation's toughest teams and proved to be one of the elite high school lacrosse competition like Farragut, Webb, Father Ryan, and wins against nationally ranked teams like Durham the spring break trip proved to be a great success. the varsity team focused its efforts on the state Brothers and McCallie, all attention was directed than a helpless road-block on the way to the title game, the lacrosse team humiliated the Tigers on two separate occasions. On a bright Saturday morning, the 2001 squad stepped onto the field for its final game. Battling MUS for four quarters and two overtime periods, despite the heroics of Adam Brooks and the defense, MBA lost a gut-wrenching classic. It was nasty, May nasty. The oppressive sun was burdening everyone's drained limbs. Water-logged and sore, every player lingered on the field. Through all the disappointment, the team had accomplished many of its goals. It had challenged great teams, dominated the state of Tennessee, and earned great respect for MBA lacrosse. MBA received more All-State selections than any other team, with Adam Brooks, William Liles, Leighton Liles, Russell McWhirter, Bennett Graham, Matthew McIntosh, Jeff Scobey, Zach Wall, Ben Hickerson, Cyrus Adams, and David Boyd named to All-State teams. MBA also had both of Tennessee's All-Americans, with Matthew McIntosh and Leighton Liles being honored. 2001 was historic. Who could forget Chris Lewis's atomic sit-up, Adam Brooks's naked romp through the creek, James Clark's facial hair, the elusive hunt for Brooke, David Fleming's annoying habit of always feeling his muscles, or our spiritual leader Chicken? The season could best be described by the immortal words of Johnathan Mirian shortly after the state championship game: "Lacrosse is like a sprinkled doughnut: we all inhabit the vacuous hole . . . but the true enjoyment resides in the fibrous dough!"

RIFLERY

The Varsity Rifle team ended the year with its fifth straight victory in the State High School Air Rifle Championship held at Hillsboro in April, but it was a most unusual and difficult year for the Big Red. The 2000 - 2001 season was unique in that while the Rifle team had one of the top rifle athletes in the nation, Jared Lostetter, on the team, there was no one close to his skill level to back him up in the four-man team events. Lostetter was the team captain and the only senior on the team. Tei Auer, a talented but inexperienced first year shooter, was the only junior; the rest of the team were sophomores or below, which speaks well for the future. The big event of the fall was the MBA Rifle Classic – held annually in October over the Fall-Break Weekend. The Classic is the largest high school sponsored rifle tournament in the U.S. This year 50 high schools and 324 athletes from 10 states competed for individual and team honors. The real story of the classic is behind the scenes – it takes the support of nearly 50 individuals, mostly parents of current and former rifle team members, to run the classic. Both gyms are used to create a rifle range with 50 firing lanes – for three days the biggest high school range in the country.

did not reach the awards platform at the Classic in had gun trouble in the 60 shot qualification round the finals, the top eight shooters go to the firing announced after each shot. Staring six points out for the best finals score in the competition but still one away from a medal. Lostetter was a “blue chip” athletic scholarship prospect for five of the top NCAA shooting programs in the country. His first visit was to the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, New York. He spent two days in early December living as a cadet and upon his departure was offered an appointment which he accepted. He sent his regrets to the other schools. Sophomores Jackson Balthrop and Josh Kupersmidt made major contributions to the team effort during the fall but dropped off the team during the spring. Freshmen David Amiot and Eric Hill stepped up to fill the gap and earned All-State High School Rifle Team honors in the process. For the State Championship, sophomore Will Stringfellow came out of retirement to help MBA win the state title. Freshman Jesse Richards has been backup team member throughout the year and shows great promise for the future. The team spent spring break at Fort Benning in Georgia on the Army Marksmanship Unit range training under the direction of world renowned Olympic rifle coach Bill Krilling. Ken Johnson, a member of the 2000 Olympic team, gave our shooters a clinic on mental training and dealing with match pressure. This has been a year of growth and development for the Varsity Rifle Team. The Junior School Rifle Team, led by Team Captain David Bilhartz, is the strongest group of shooters we have had in four years. Even with the departure of Jared Lostetter, coaches Leo Lujan and Ivy Ashworth expect a stonger team next year.

The 2001 MBA soccer team's season was marked by screaming Hondurans, the shaving of Cherry's head, and a late rally that nearly sent the team to the final four in Chattanooga. Senior leadership this season came from all areas of the soccer field. Captains Michael "Pelé" Osburn and Will Greathouse mentally prepared the team for battle in each and every match while also showing their stuff on the field. Billy Pritchett and Brad Boyd added much-needed speed to the Big Red machine as they flew down the sidelines past their defenders. Britt Groomes gave the team strength and a "Bad Boy" attitude in the midfield, while Matt showed off his Canadian goalkeeping skills, and with stats and valuable moral support. A talented lineup as well, including Brian Charnock, Brandon Haitas, Ben Bevens, Ross Johnson, and Todd up with David Schumacher, Josh Cherry, Matt while the freshman phenoms packed a powerful punch with the likes of Michael Koban, Tim Stanton, David Harper, and Corey Burton. The Big Red soccer team rolled through a rollercoaster regular season. After losing a disappointing season opener to McGavock, the team went on to win three straight games, including a huge win over Franklin, in which sophomore goalkeeper Justin Holland schooled the competition with a stellar performance in net, saving 10 of 11 shots. Throughout the remainder of the regular season, the team won big games over such teams as MUS, Hillsboro, and Overton, tied defending state champion Baylor 0-0, but suffered heartbreaking defeats to division rivals Father Ryan, BGA, and USN. The MBA soccer team subsequently steamrolled into the region tournament with a mediocre record of 7-7-1. The team easily defeated St. Andrews-Sewanee 5-1, manhandled BGA 2-1, with team MVP Brian Charnock scoring both goals, and avenged the loss to Father Ryan with a 1-0 shutout, thanks to tremendous defensive efforts from Matt Serck and JV step-up Corey Burton. Thus, the Big Red soccer team emerged from the tournament with the coveted status of Region Champion. Only one goal separated the team from its first trip to the final four in over nineteen years as it was devastated by an ugly and questionably officiated 2-1 loss to ECS in the substate. Overall, however, the 2001 season was full of both fun and excitement, as the team finished with a not too shabby record of 10-8-1. None of this year's success would have ever been possible without the incredible coaching staff of John "Shoot the Bloody Ball" Lanier, Richard Klausner, and John Markham. Thanks to all for a great season!

The 2001 season was a big one for the MBA tennis team. After two rebuilding years and a surprisingly strong finish last year as second in the state, the tennis team recaptured the prominence it enjoyed in years past. Aided this year by teaching intern Dan "Home Depot" McGugin, Coach Clay "the Doc" Bailey led the squad to its first undefeated season up until a third place finish April. Other season highlights included a 6-3 School, golden sets from both Will Hines and Ted 2001 Fan of the Year, Ian "the Intimidator" Russell. varsity veteran Zac "Go Doors!" Additional senior leadership was given by Will "the Camel" Hines, Thompson "White Lightning" Paine, and Chris "Haircut" Bateman. A remarkable fact about the 2001 tennis team was that three out of the top six players were freshmen. It was immensely disappointing to come in second in the state tournament to MUS, but with five out of this year's top six players returning, hopes and expectations are extremely high for the 2002 season.

After capturing the Region Championship by a hundred points, they knew their work was not over. During exam week the MBA Track Team remained focused and worked hard by polishing hand offs and approaches for State. On May 25th the Big Red rolled into Chattanooga with 25 primed athletes, more than any other team competing, and an entourage of coaches. To defeat the strong team from Baylor they knew it would take all 25 of them scoring points to get it done. And they did. Their winning a State Championship this season resulted from a team effort symbolized by first place finishes in the 4x200, 4x800, and 4x400 relays. Senior leadership, focus, and guidance this season was provided by Drew Conrad, William Floyd, Hunter Huston, Steve Ingram, Dominique Morris, Reid Murphy, Scott Sagen, Jeff Sweeney, and Hulsey Smith. Junior Varsity Basketball

Under the direction of coaches Jerry Meyer and Lyle Husband, the 2000 - 2001 junior varsity basketball team had great success. The team finished the season with a 13-3 record. Season highlights include beating Hillsboro with only four players on the court in the fourth quarter, Charlie Nelson's near-but not quite-dunk at USN, and Jeffrey Hollis's scoring for the other team. Junior Varsity Lacrosse

The JV lacrosse team had another outstanding year. They won some very difficult games, and in the process, proved that MBA will have a great varsity lacrosse team in years to come.

Junior Varsity Soccer

The MBA Junior Varsity, coached by Mr. Klausner ('73), had another strong season finishing 8 - 1 - 3. The offense, led by Michael Koban, Tim Stanton, and Zane Owens, outscored the opponents 42 - 6. The goalkeepers were Matt Wall and William Simpson, who combined for eight shutouts. The outstanding defense was led by Corey Burton and Matt Conrad, both of whom were moved up to varsity after the J.V. season was completed.

Freshman Football

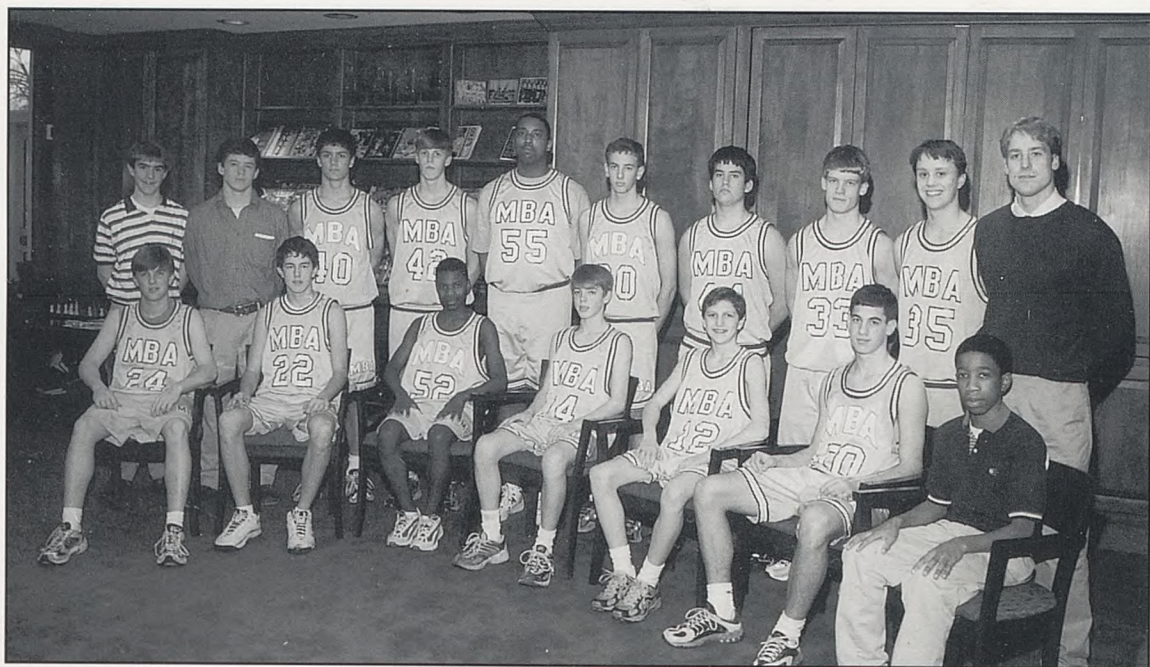

Coached by Daniel McGugin, Lyle Husband, and Gordon Chenery, the freshmen football team went undefeated this year. With wins against such big MBA rivals as Centennial, Father Ryan, and McCallie, the freshman should have a good football team for years.

Back Row (l-r): Coach Lyle Husband, Forrest Rich, Jarrett Anderson, Andrew Crane, Andrew Mills, Matthew Barnes, Ryan Shepherd, Lee Noel, John Parker, Christopher Chenery, Michael Koban, Tom Santi, Scott Hagan, Matt Smith, Michael Fisher, Ryan Moses, Matthew Jacques, Ryan Nevin, Coach Gordon Chenery; Front Row (l-r): Trey Fuller, Chris Lewis, Chandler Tygard, Clay Haury, Sam Macdonald, Alston Williamson, Jonathan Gluck, James Dade, Benson Sloan, Jeffrey Ewers, David Harper, Tyler Augusty, Charlie Morgan, Coach Daniel McGugin

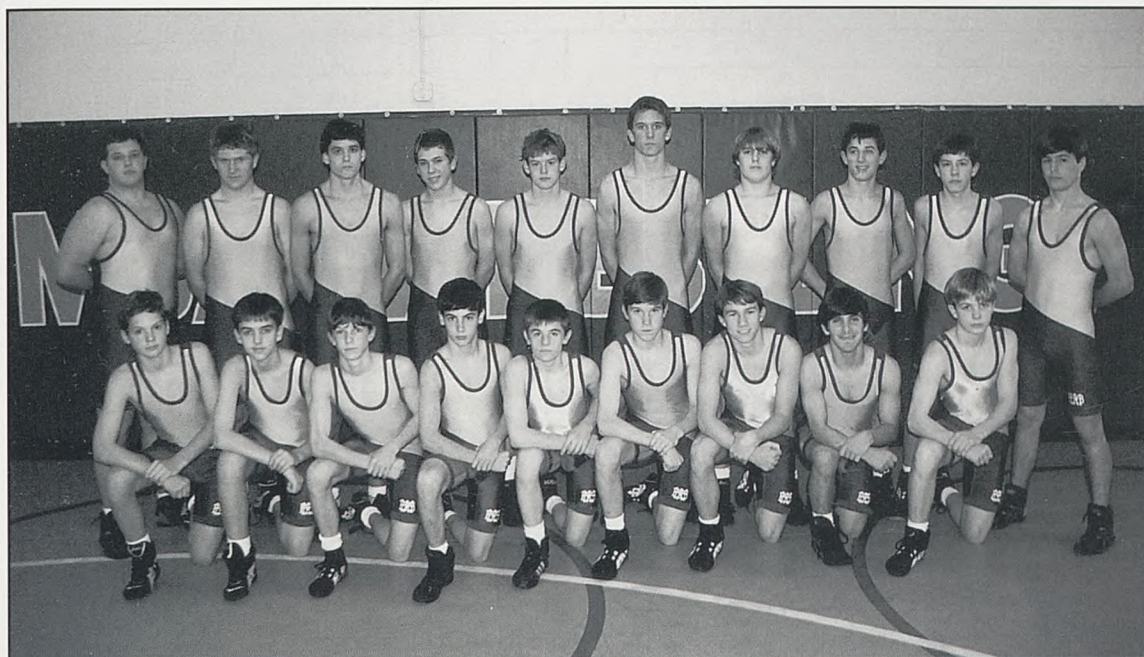

Freshman Basketball

The freshman had another great season of basketball this year. Unfortunately, the team was eliminated in the semi-finals of the City Championship, but they finished with the great record of 15 - 3.

MBA's freshman wrestling team had an outstanding year. With the coaching efforts of Coach Spiegl and Coach Jenkins, the team was propelled to an incredible top three finish at state. The team would also like to thank Coach Simpson for his help as well as the MBA community for all their support.

Freshman Track

Back Row (l-r): Alex Shofner, Gregory McCord, 2nd Row (l-r): John Parker, Andrew Crane, Wilson Robinson, Ryan Nevin, Front Row (l-r): Charlie Morgan, Jeff Snyder, Alex Hamblen

Because they had a relatively small team this year, the freshman did not finish as high in the city meet as they would have liked. However, individually, the team had an excellent season. Jeff Snyder and Wilson Robinson even qualified to run in the state, and Alex Hamblen ran very well in Region. With such a strong freshman team, the varsity will be in good shape in future years.

CHEERLEADING

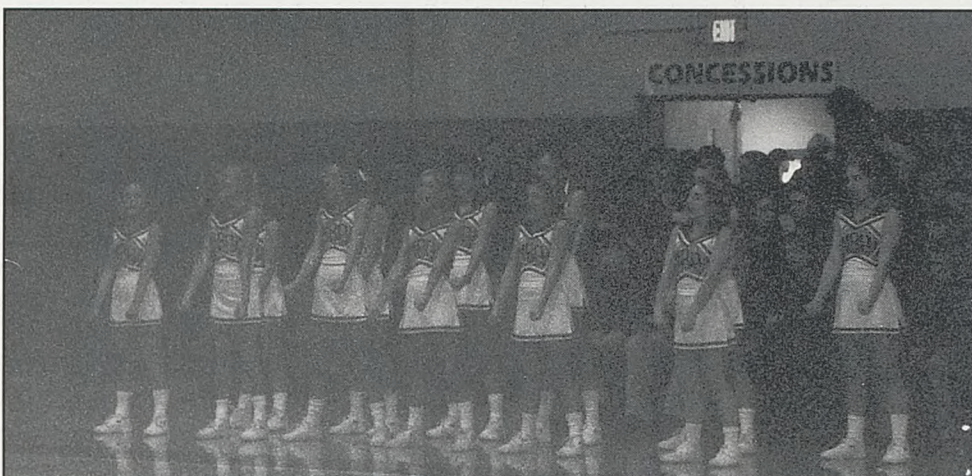

Behind every great man there is an even greater woman. Once again this is the case. The cheerleaders have been there for all the victories and losses of the MBA sports teams. As usual, the cheerleaders were from St. Cecilia Academy and The Harpeth Hall School. These two schools put their differences aside to cheer their men to victory. The cheerleaders were completely loyal to their Big Red. The football cheerleaders followed their team down to Florida (even cheering in the rain) and they were there to cheer them on to a third consecutive state championship. The wrestling cheerleaders always had food for the men, spending hours in the kitchen cooking. (That's where women belong). The wrestlers were very grateful to their cheerleaders and gave them a beautiful gift at the end of the season. The Basketball cheerleaders were there to cheer the players on to a state championship. The basketball players were able to have a fine season because the girls spent hours practicing and cheering. Although they might not be the brightest crayons in the box, they sure know how to jump up and down, and they can spell. G-O! B-E A-G-G-R-E-S-S-I-V-E! So remember the next time you're about to make a dumb blonde joke, that you could never have been winners without your cheerleaders.

The football and basketball cheerleaders began preparation for their seasons in July, as they attended a UCA camp at Middle Tennessee State University, where Megan Turner was selected as a UCA all-star. Football captains were Helen Adelman and Casey Taherian, and basketball captains were Cassie McConnell and Abby McGrew. The football and basketball cheerleaders planned practices, pep rallies, and other spirit activities. It will be hard to replace the leadership of the eight senior cheerleaders next year. The squads were coached by Mrs. Deborah Franks.

The wrestling cheerleaders, coached by Mrs. Ivy Ashworth and led by captain Ashleigh Foster, began practicing in October, and their hard work paid off. They painted signs to encourage the team before the matches and provided food and cheered for each wrestler individually during the matches.

Commencement

On Thursday, May 31, the Class of 2001 graduated from Montgomery Bell Academy. Because of the rain, the ceremony was forced into the gym. Following the opening bagpipes processional, the class proudly walked through a crowded aisle between seats in the gymnasium. After the invocation from Tom Paine, Mr. Gioia spoke about the history of the commencement ceremony and its significance. Next, students, family, and friends listened to addresses from salutatorian Drew Conrad who spoke about memories on the hill, valedictorian Jesse Bull who spoke about taking chances, and alumnus Mr. David Ingram. And then it was time for the moment the senior class had waited for all night - the awarding of the diplomas. After a performance from the chorus and a final benediction from Stephen Smith, students, friends, and family all acknowledged the momentous occasion with a reception in Frist Hall. Even in bad weather, the Class of 2001 celebrated a wonderful last night together on the Hill.

Empire building in chemistry with Dr. Neergaard. Listening Myles' goofy laugh. An official fort builder in Clark's class. Waiting and riding the MTA bus at MBA for 2 years. "Visit" to UT. Late-night trips to Mapco and Sonic. Right, right, right. "Um...yeah, I'm gonna have to disagree with you on that one."-Bill Lumbergh. Where's the lollies? Eric, shut up!!! That's definitely a negative. Looky, looky here now! Hey, why don't you use your keys to start your car? Altoids always provide you with minty-fresh breath. You like that don't ya? Oh God that's foul, that's God-awful! Hey Brad-Uuuuggghhh? Ghetto-rigged stuff forever! What in the hell? That sounds like a real personal problem. Aight! Um...no. Who's got that good green? Chris, how are the 8th graders lookin'? Quick, grab a pillow! get off me. Let's go muddin'! You're definitely whipped! Where's my oppressed, half-Asian peoples? Eric, I could have sworn that I told you to shut your mouth!!! What a naughty girl! You gotta car, house, etc. yet Cameron? Go eat some mud-pies and pick me some cotton! What-she called me a chigger?!? Yes Clifton, you play hackysack, you're NOT Black. Sure. Get off my computer, those are my roms! Wasn't a certain someone dancing around buck-naked one Saturday night? Where's the "bang"! Wow dude, check out the lift on that truck! Chinese food gives me the runs. Stop debating everything Eric! Dog, you ain't Geto! Tigo bitties. The Ben Derry song and the Asian slavery, by Adam Brooks, We three kings will rise again in German. Cracker, rich white-boy! Shut it, Giles! "Hey Peter, turn it to channel 9; they're doin' the breast exam again!"-Louis. 3-pack of raincoats for $1.29 (high quality stuff). You know, girls have that thing once a year. Why's your shirt on backwards and inside-out? Along the way, I decided that I really just don't care. That phrase stuck with me, and will continue to. To my friends, it's been real. Thanks to my mother, for her love and support throughout my mess-ups. Peace, I'm out!

If you have a problem and need advice, then ask Mr. Jones: he played football at Alabama and has witnessed most of the significant events of American history. Don't take yourselves too seriously (esp if you're an MBA SUV G). Although I admit it is fun and occasionally appropriate, for creative purposes try to cut down on the use of the word "gay" to describe inanimate objects. Get involved in stuff, or make a point not to get involved as long as you believe in your cause of action or inaction. Thanks Mom, Dad, Sarah, Susan, and all my homies for the support.

Debate (9-12); Jazz Band (9-12); Student Diversity Initiative (11-12); NMSQT Qualifier (12); Astronomy Club (11-12); I say to you today, my friends, that in spite of the difficulties and frustrations of the moment, I still have a dream. It is a dream deeply rooted in the American dream. I have a dream that one day this nation will rise up and live out the true meaning of its creed: "We hold these truths to be self-evident: that all men are created equal." I have a dream that one day on the red hills of Georgia the sons of former slaves and the sons of former slaveowners will be able to sit down together at a table of brotherhood. I have a dream that one day even the state of Mississippi, a desert state, sweltering with the heat of injustice and oppression, will be transformed into an oasis of freedom and justice. I have a dream that my four children will one day live in a nation where they will not be judged by the color of their skin but by the content of their character. I have a dream today. I have a dream that one day the state of Alabama, whose governor's lips are presently dripping with the words of interposition and nullification, will be transformed into a situation where little black boys and black girls will be able to join hands with little white boys and white girls and walk together as sisters and brothers. I have a dream today... not quite alive here yet. Oh yeah, and thank you to my parents, family, friends.

MBA Lacrosse (4 years), Baseball (8 years), Basketball (3 years), Eagle Scout Volunteer special olympics (4 years), Volunteer food for families (4 years) Most successful slacker, most nights without opening bookbag at home. Most likely to get starting position stolen by little freshman runts. But you can't give a speeding ticket I'm on my way to pay your other ticket, Lee you don't give a what? So Clifton, what exactly is that thing on your head. Where do ya'll keep that rocket of yours. You can't see the problem because there's a forest in the way with all kinds of trees in it. Wanna go muddin? I don't think it's suppose to sound like that. I think Brad just killed the bronco. I want 44's dammit. Hey look! It's the guy throw something at him. So do you think it's okay to drive home. I'm gonna be just like Paul one day. That's why we call him Mattress. So what will happen if I just keep drivin it. Clifton, I think I heard a your trunk rattlin yesterday. Clifton likes to play in the mudd. You went 3 times in one night Clifton. William do you wanna go muddin and stay for the whole time this time. I'm sure your truck can make it, do it. I've never heard of a mazda b2200 before. I don't think I've ever heard of a mazda navaho before either. Just throw down some aspirins, you'll feel better before you know it. You wanna go "campin". Let's spend the night in the field again. Let's get junior to go. So Eric, how old is Gracie. For Christmas I'm getting a 10 inch lift and 31x10.50's and a brush guard and a winch and a roof rack and some BFG all terrains. I hate BFG all terrains. Matt has an oversized sedan. Let's take the Dodge. Wanna see my gold tooth. yeah, my name's Brad and I need one of those tow trucks of ya'lls. So is the cruiser fixed. Now what exactly does your dad do. Let's get a mail jeep and drive it till it falls apart and then get another one and do the same thing. So do you want to change the differentials. I rode 4 deep in the Dodge Friday night. So where do you keep those rockets of ya'lls. Brad has a son. Brad likes the honeypot. She took advantage of me dude. I thought you were jokin! MTR's are where it's at. I think I missed my Freshman, Sophomore, and Junior years of English. Zack, you still haven't passed a test. Hi Daniel, I mean Mr. McGugin. I don't think those were aspirins dude. just callin to see if you slept at church. Which part is the engine exactly. I don't think it's suppose to look like that. Hey, go back to your room. Okay! Clifton your people are gettin rowdy. Don't touch Mason's food. Clifton's woman hooked us up. Clifton is trying to hook up with the lunch lady. You think it'll just fix itself. What do all these warning lights mean. Let's go waste four hours of our day practicing lacrosse. So to sum things up, to win the game we need to score more points than the other team. We'll just play at Zack's house on the sidelines. Is that a helicopter. I wanna go to Harvard but I think I just settle for UT. It's all foam. Thank you Mom and Dad for sending me to MBA so I can go succeed at UT. Lee looks like Donkey Kong.

Debate(2-4) Honor Council (4) National Merit Semifinalist (4); "Uh, turn here, man. I want to get my sword." "There wasn't much to pillage, so we just burned Homewood to the ground." "Why do they call him 'Big' Idaho?" Capoeira on the lawn in boxers. "I'll get us there, John... You just worry about what you're worrying about." "All right lads...go on the count of three, then upside down on your head and slam it on the table." "Get a British accent, man... I swear you will have more birds than you will know what to do with." Haggie and Idaho: Picked up on the KOS. "Ok, I'll run T- Hey, what's the resolution again?" "All right, Idaho... Let's put him on the floor... I don't think he can fall off of that...Ok, so I was wrong." "Mother Nature doesn't like it." "How's that again, Tlldawg?" "Hey! I'm Toto-boy!" "The first rule of slush fund is: You do not talk about slush fund." "Those cannons used to be this big, and the rest is all purple and black paint." "Put some south in your mouth!" "Uh... dude, don't you think you should be wearing something besides an overcoat, boxers, and moccasins?" "No, Andrew, that's the wrong company." "Oh, you want the red room... bear left through the kitchen, into the rainbow room, take a right down the purple hall, and it's dead ahead." Me: "Hey, man, welcome to MBA. Some folks call me Idaho." Canada: "Uh, yeah...I'm Paul..." "Wow! Who just put that kickoff through the uprights???" "Oh, that's our quarterback. He's pretty good."

Dropped out of debate within first two weeks (There must be a God for that one). Proud follower of the LIBER RVBER. Hey Chris, I've got a "crucial" seventh grader here for you! I almost soiled myself. Andy Gray for dictator of Bolivia. Winner of tacky souvenir contest two years straight (9,10). You're joking, right? OK...it's called sarcasm. Favorite Haiku: "Potos piquen porque tienen pelos al pedo." Shut up Ian...nobody cares what you think! Patrick Carnell for class president. The three Ss for success: Sure, Stuff, Swell. Long live the C:\> and K++. Take Spanish! The girls in Spain are hot and usually drunk! VOR- Very high frequency omni-directional range (Aren't you impressed?) Schplunk!!! Is global thermonuclear war such a bad thing? Personally, I could use a few extra limbs. Start the engine, Ben's coming. 12th grade Service Club officer, 11th grade battle ball king, 8th grade stock market game winner ($35 oh wow). Hey, I got drunk when I was eight; can you beat that? St. Cecilia should return to being a finishing school; Harpeth Hall already has. Can't wait to be an expatriate! Hey Michael, why don't you donate to the bake sale? Senior Class Officers

The Senior Class Officers exerted a constant leadership during the 2000-2001 school year. President Thompson Paine set the tone for the year with his speech, during the first assembly, urging the student body to become passionate about at least one extracurricular activity. In addition to Thompson Paine, the senior class officers were vice-president Sumeet Vaikunth, secretary William Liles, and treasurer Adam Brooks. After working through the grueling fund-raising, planning, and setup for the 2000 Junior-Senior Prom throughout their sophomore and junior years, the Senior Class Officers led by example during the school year, created and sold spring break t-shirts, planned and executed the senior prank, and presented the Class of 2001's class gift.

Senior Class Gift

At graduation, senior class president Thompson Paine presented the 2001 class gift, a water fountain with a bell on the side, designed by Kem Hinton from the Tuck Hinton architectural firm. The class hopes that the fountain will be as successful at providing needed refreshment as the gift of the class of 1949, the fountain near the track.

Senior Prank

After much discussion throughout the year, the Class of 2001 decided to combine traditions of the recent past with an original prank idea. The plan was to switch classes with Harpeth Hall in the morning, and then to have a party in the P.M. Estes Courtyard during the last day of classes. At 11:00 p.m. on Wednesday, May 16th, members of the senior class met in the sophomore parking lot and proceeded to set up the P.M. Estes courtyard for a grand fiesta complete with palm trees and goalpost covers on the roof of the Davis Building, all the benches around campus, curtains to keep out the underclassmen, two grills, two basketball goals, a kiddie swimming pool, a Ping-Pong table, a Slip 'n' Slide, a Class of 2001 sign, a Burger King "Now Hiring" sign, and a Hillwood Country Club flag. After the setup, many stayed to party and at 7:00 a.m. on Thursday, May 17th, met at the Green Hills H.G. Hills parking lot along with the senior class of Harpeth Hall. Each senior was matched with a Honeybear to trade clothing and classes. At MBA, the underclassmen enjoyed the company of the girls, while the MBA seniors took advantage of the great odds at Harpeth Hall. After class, the seniors returned to MBA for a party complete with Whiffle-ball, Basketball, Ping-Pong, hot dogs, swimming, and general merriment. At noon, the party ended, as everyone helped to clean up and return everything to its proper place. The Burger King sign remained on campus, and both seniors and underclassmen proclaimed that the novelty of this year's prank would never be forgotten.

Career Day

On April 30, all seniors were excused from classes and invited to attend Career Day at MBA. This day was a great opportunity for the seniors to begin thinking beyond college and preparing for their future careers. The first event of the day was a panel discussion in which a group of MBA alumni shared their personal experiences and advice with the class. After a break for assembly in which Mr. Robin Beard, a member of the panel, spoke, the seniors broke up into smaller groups to work more closely with alumni of many different ages and professions. Everyone took a personality test to determine what to expect in his line of work, and all were dismayed to learn that they were going to marry an alcoholic. The groups then migrated across the street to Mr. Gioia's house for a barbecue lunch and more discussion. The second half of the day involved a transition to college seminar to help cope with the new pressures that will be faced in college. The day was very helpful, and many thanks go to the alumni who volunteered to come.

Left: Over lunch, seniors and alumni chat about the good ole days on the hill.

Below: It was a really, really good lunch.

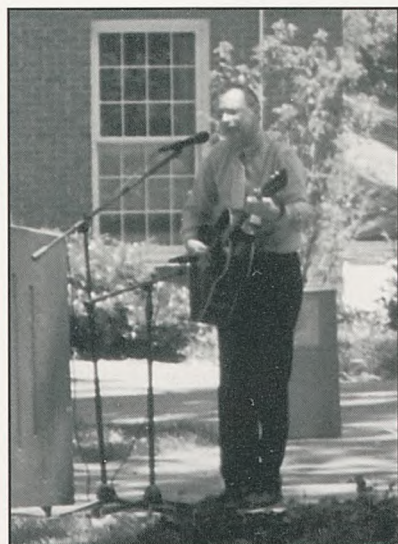

Above: Seniors learn that they are headed for a career as a mortician or the captain of the womens' corps.

Right: Alumni discuss their post-MBA experiences in the workforce.

Mother - Son Luncheon

The 2001 Mother-Son Luncheon was a great success. As seniors and their mothers enjoyed a catered box lunch in the Gambill Quadrangle, they were treated to a series of pleasant presentations. First, John Voigt sang on his guitar two songs that moved the whole crowd. Then, Johnathan Mirian gave a brilliant speech on what his teachers meant to him and how he has learned to be a teacher in many ways, just like his mother. Finally, Dr. Neergaard gave another musical performance, singing a few of his classic assembly favorites. It turned out to be a great social event on one of the final days the seniors were together as a class.

Left: John Humbracht checks to see if his food is still moving before remembering that SAGE did not cook the meal.

Above: All John Voigt needs is a lab coat, some real glasses, and some knowledge about chemistry, and he could be Dr. Neergaard.

19-21 Cheerleading Camp in Franklin Andrew Berg finally has a reason to be proud of his hometown
19 Board Retreat (3 days) Perhaps they retreated to Franklin 28 Summer School Ends Seniors rejoice as they finally finish their degree and can now begin a long, successful career as the HamBurgler at your local McDonald's

August

- 1 HS Football Practice Begins Frogs fall like rain, the sky bleeds, and the horsemen ride
7 Golf Tryouts Mr. Caldwell cheers up because he knows the worst is yet to come 14 Faculty Computer Workshop (9:00 - 12) Ending just in time for lunch
14 Study Smarter! Courses Schooling the way it ought to be 25 9th Grade Retreat Freshmen choose "prison buddies" to protect one another from senior hazing

28 Registration Seniors begin to slide 29 Big Brother Day Seniors corrupt the innocent minds of incoming students. Further contact between seniors and their seventh grade buddies is canceled for fear of the seniors' jaded states of mind 30 Classes Begin Mr. Caldwell mourns the fact that he must return to school nearly every day. Dr. Crowell rejoices that his retirement has just begun 31 Advisory Meetings What? What are these again? Oh, right, this was that time when all the seniors retreated to the parking lot

September

- 4 Labor Day - No Classes Students take a well-deserved day of partying after a long half-week of sleeping 6 Big Red Store Volunteer Orientation Mothers learn the best way to swindle seniors of $50 for a tie and patch at the last possible moment 8 Football at Bolles A sad plane trip home except for the cross country team, one of whom managed to score a date with the stewardess 15 Pep Rally Cheerleaders cried; seniors apologized have the opportunity to show off their new manicures

19 High School Parents Night Mommy and Daddy bribe the teachers to "give me a good education" 22 Mentor Meetings Has anyone ever heard of this before? If you have, please, be my guest, write your own funny comment because I have no idea what this is

- 22 Family Picnic MBA mothers rejoice at this opportunity to show off their cute new outfits 24-26 Camp Laney Trip Seventh graders form a special bond by rolling around in the mud together 27 Headmaster's Circle Dinner MBA thanks big donors with a meal of beanie weenies cooked specially by SAGE 28 Theme Day The computer lab is full all day as students frantically write their papers one period before English class
30 Rosh Hashanah Andy Gryll dances a jig

October

- 3 First Tuesday Parent Meeting, "Teen Suicide" Coffee Talk
6 Bake Sale Chris Bateman and Michael Osburn contribute their brownies
6 Dedication of the Carter Building The school celebrates the architect's brilliant talent for covering up all electrical outlets on The Bell side of the Publications room and for creating locking double doors that can easily be opened. Dr. Crowell protests because the architect neglected to add a berm
6 Spaghetti Supper Students enjoy another delicious, home-cooked meal of spaghetti worth five dollars
7 Homecoming Dance I'm drawing a blank
9 Yom Kippur Andy dances another jig
10 Faculty/Staff Flu Shots Yolanda administers the shots 10 Big Red Bowl Is that what happened the day we switched with Harpeth Hall?
11 Kids Café Johnathan Mirian dons his goggles
13 Mentor Meetings That thing again
14 Weight Room Open House for Fathers Redmond makes Phillip's dad run five miles for chewing gum
15 Music in the Round Right... Music in the Round, more like Music in the... never mind
16 Faculty/Student Presidential Debate A.k.a nap time just like every other assembly 17 PSAT/NMSQT While everyone else got up early to take a test, seniors enjoyed the comedy stylings of Mr. Patrick 18 Totomoi induction Seniors hit on by fellow classmates

The Headmaster's Papers

That's what all the hard work has been for. You made it, we knew you would; now you're ready for whatever endeavors lie ahead. We are so proud of you and we love you more than words can say.

Love,

Dad, Mama, Miller and Richard

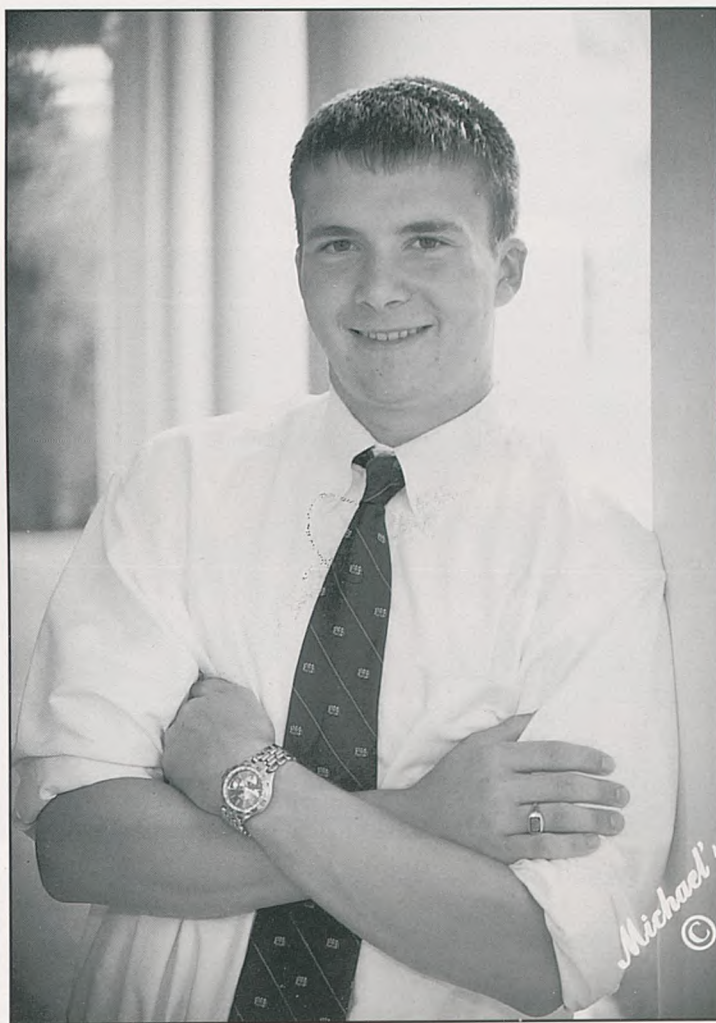

Congratulations Britain Lawrence Grooms!

Britt, Britter, Mr. Britt Britt, Buddy,

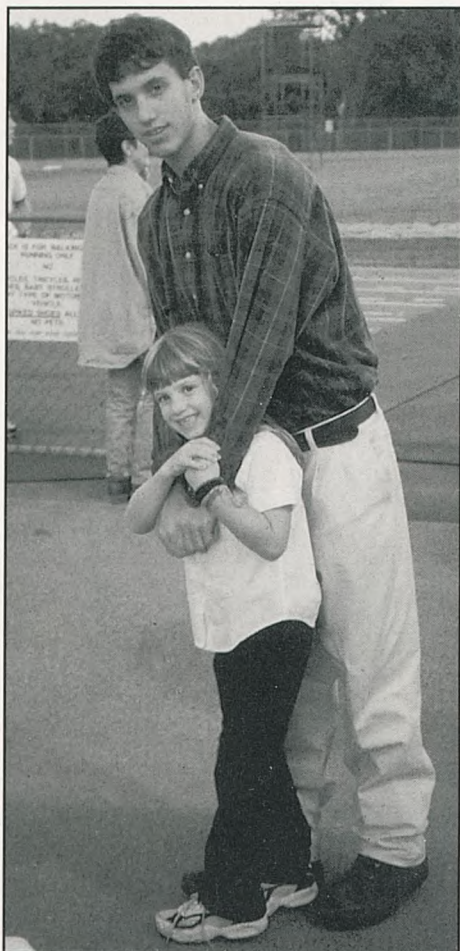

We are so blessed that you are our son. We have cherished every step, every event, every friend, every day (well, almost every day!). With your winning smile, your quick wit, and your active nature, you have brought much joy to our lives. We are proud that you can add graduating from MBA as one of your accomplishments. We send you to college trusting that you will strive to be the best that you can be, and that you will continue to be a gentleman, scholar, and athlete.

With love from your greatest fans,
Mom and Dad

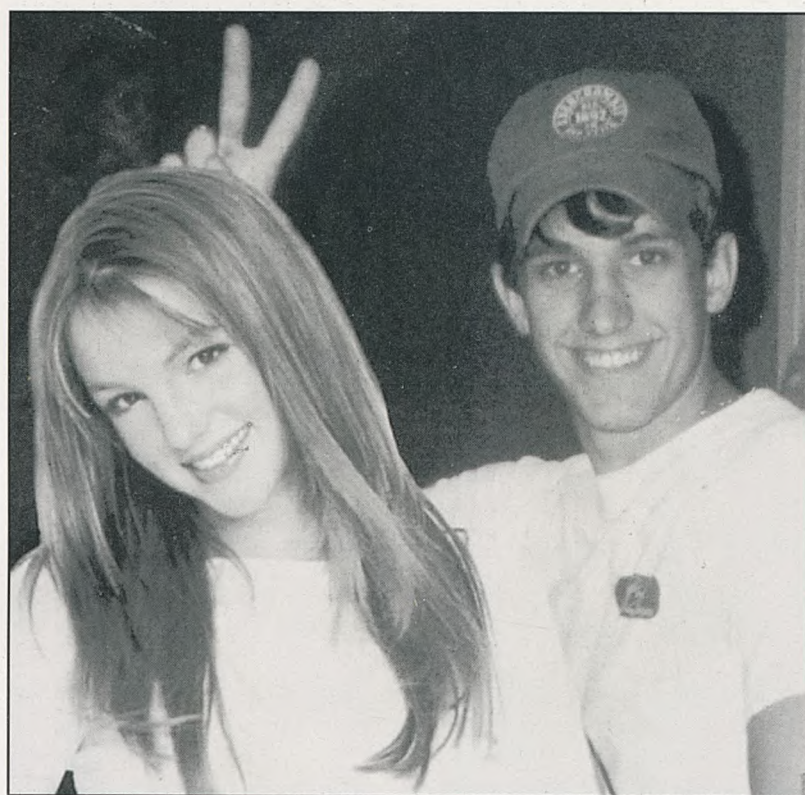

Bubba did it!!

Congratulations Brandon, your strength to follow your heart, your values and your faith has made us more proud of you than we could ever express!

You have always been

My Symphony

To live with small means;
to seek elegance rather than luxury,
and refinement rather than fashion;
to be worthy, not respectable
and wealthy, not rich;
to study hard, think quietly
talk gently, act frankly;
to listen to stars and birds;
to babes and sages,
with an open heart;
to bear all cheerfully,
do all bravely,
await occasions, hurry never.
In a word, to let the spiritual, unbidden, and unconscious grow up
through the commonplace.
This is to be
my symphony.

Bowling (2 weeks), weight room (as short as possible), varsity football (never, small time as spirit leader), wrestling (saw it once), track (about three laps... collapsed... blank). First South African exchange student to MBA, first South African to lead Zulu war cries at MBA, first South African to be in The Bell, first South African to go without rugby for three months. Three short months turn into a lifelong memory so fast, but summer is calling; I'll be back! "You bloody Australian" Wearing underwear is as formal as I hope to get." Whoever would be a man must be a nonconformist." No matter how much you shake, there's always a drop left." My adventures in: Studio Art I: met Will "I think I know music" Hines; American History: "Okay, Zac, I said post, but I meant mail"; Physics: "So what does that have to do with physics, Dr. Crowell?"; English IV: Mr. Moxley and guys, English has never been such fun (Yes, English is my home language); Lunch: "Mmmm, ice-cream sandwiches"; Jazz band: "So we're... SHUT UP... going to... "SHUT UP... have this South African on... SHUT UP... acoustic even though the... SHUT UP... three electric guitars... SHUT UP... will drown him... SHUT UP... out completely." - Mr. Rundberg. Thanks: Miller, Jamey, Matthew, Phillip, Matt, Margaret, Zac, and everyone who made me feel so welcome (no space to mention all names); the Downings for a fun weekend; Mr. Gioia for your undying willingness to help me; Mr. and Mrs. Dickens, and John and Mr. and Mrs. Harris, I couldn't have found better host families anywhere in the world; Mom, Dad, and Matt for letting me come to Nashville, your love and support throughout my life has made me what I am today; Finally to my Lord Jesus Christ, you made it possible for me to have the time of my life at MBA. Dr. John Griffith

Dr. Griffith will become headmaster at Miami Valley, a private school in Dayton, Ohio. He's been in numerous musicals including this year's Damn Yankees since his first days at MBA in 1992. We'll all miss the way he carried his Tazmanian Devil coffee cup into class everyday or the way he always joked about his personal life during class. His personality, wit, and charm captivated all of his students and the faculty. The school and English III H will not be the same without him. He has been one of many students' favorite teachers, and has already become a legend on the MBA campus. To see just how popular he is with the student body, try to find one yearbook in the past nine years that is not inundated with photos of him chatting with students. The English department really will be hurting without him. Also, the College Counseling Staff will feel the effects of this loss. But most importantly, the students will sorely miss him.

Mrs. Sue Miller

Mrs. Sue Miller is an outstanding librarian who has quietly gone about the business of making the Patrick Wilson Library one of the finest school libraries in the southeast. She came to MBA in January, 1985, taking over for Ms. Tilley who was about to have a baby. For eleven years, Mrs. Miller worked with Mrs. Mildred Simmons to tackle the herculean task of automating the library as well as gaining access to Vanderbilt's online catalog. Later, Mrs. Miller collaborated with Mr. Gioia, other teachers and architect, Kem Hinton, to plan for the remodeling and additions to the Patrick Wilson Library. This past year, she wrote a grant initiating an archives for MBA so that pictures and documents of MBA's past will not be lost. Students and teachers know Mrs. Miller as a patient, intelligent woman who has an uncanny knack for tracking down the answers to tough questions. Because of her good sense and quiet humor, she has also been an outstanding faculty advisor to students for many years. The library staff and the student body will greatly miss her next year.

F A R E W E L L

Mr. Lyle Husband

For the past three years, Mr. T. Lyle Husband has taught either Grammar/ Vocabulary or U.S. History to the 7th grade. In addition to his teaching duties, he has been the head coach of the freshman basketball team, an assistant coach for Varsity Basketball and Football, and an assistant for freshman football. In his three years at MBA, the Varsity Football and Basketball teams have won 5 state championships, and the Freshman basketball teams have advanced deep into the Freshman District tournament each year. Coach Husband is well-liked by all of his students and players, and we wish him the best in the future.

Mr. Adam Michael

Five years after receiving his MBA diploma, Adam Michael returned to the hill. Upon earning a degree in history from Duke University, Michael was primed to contribute back to the Big Red. As a teacher, Adam fulfilled a myriad of roles—recrudescenting the MBA community as an American History teacher to both 7th graders and to juniors and seniors (in the unexpected and unfortunate absence of Mr. Kyle Bills). Beyond the confines of his classroom in Massey, he could be found proctoring the computer lab during 6th period, coaching Microbe intramurals after school, conversing outside with upperclassmen about the realities of college life, or boasting about Blue Devil basketball any time the opportunity arose. This August, MBA will be wishing Adam Michael the best of luck as he begins law school in San Francisco.

Mr. Patrick Roberts

It is rare to see students get excited and competitive with grammar, but Mr. Roberts did it with his weekly competitions in eighth grade English and cultural geography, even throwing in a question from the Almanac every now and then too. On the playing field he was tough. Three three-sport athletes in the senior class this year say that eighth grade football was the hardest athletic season of their lives. But he was a coach whom students still felt close to and played their hearts out for come game time. Mr. Roberts has been with Alumni and Development for the past few years, and perhaps that is where he will be most sorely missed. But as for the students, they will miss him most as a fun teacher and great coach. Mr. Roberts will become Director of Admissions at University Leggett School in Grosse Point, Michigan.

This book commemorates a year on the hill. Thus, this book cannot be the work of two people. On the contrary, this book is the work of thousands of people. Whether he or she be a student or teacher at MBA, a person on an opposing sports team, or a date for prom, that person had an effect upon the school in the past year. This book represents the sum total of all those interactions. For this reason, we must thank everyone that helped to make this year great. Without all these people, this yearbook would not exist.

Also, we must, of course, thank the teachers. Above all else, MBA is a school, and without teachers, there would be no school. These men and women work tirelessly throughout the year to ensure that each student receives an excellent education before he receives his diploma. These teachers do not get the recognition that they deserve. If we could, we would thank each teacher individually, but this space does not allow it, so from the student body as a whole, teachers, we thank you for all the work you have done for us this year and in previous years.

However, the yearbook felt more closely the impact of a few people. The two of us could not have done this job without help from some people. First, we must thank Mrs. McGee for all the pictures she gave to us this year. Whenever we needed pictures for an event, we could always count on her to donate a few. Second, we must thank the office staff, Mrs. Bradshaw, Mrs. Howell, Mrs. Miles, Mrs. Morrissey, Mrs. Patrick, Mrs. Power, and Mrs. Snow. Whenever we needed the names of people, supplies, or just general help, they were always there. To them, we are very grateful; we could not have done the yearbook without them. Third, we would like to thank Mary Harris, our Herff-Jones yearbook advisor, who solved all our difficult yearbook problems and gave us candy. Fourth, we thank the Honduran cleaning crew for making the long nights more interesting. Next, we must thank all the parents and businesses who bought ads. This yearbook is the longest MBA yearbook to date and we needed lots of money to publish it, so thank you for contributing. Fifth, we must thank everyone who contributed to this yearbook by writing an article or helping us in the room. Sixth, thank you to all our friends (Jamie Atkinson, Jill Bader, Adam Brooks, Lauren Brooks, Will Bruce, Casey Catignani, Lindsey Conlin, Drew Conrad, Will Corbett, Eloisa Devietti, Jenni Doerr, Andy Gryll, Cliff Hancock, Will Hines, Frances Lewis, Ian McDaniel, Matthew McIntosh, Ed Miranda, Johnathan Mirian, Jordan Moore, Tara Neuhoff, Michael Osburn, Tom Paine, David Pfeffer, Paul Pope, Victoria Richards, Mary Seifker, Phillip Simpson, Stephen Smith, Will Tate, Tee Tompkins, Sarah Tuke, and many others) who offered help and kept us entertained so that we would not go insane. Finally, thank you, Evan Shelby, for your work this year and good luck next year.

FROM THE EDITORS

"The editors of The Maroon and White . . . would like to see it [the yearbook] gradually expand until every phase of the school life is well covered. We also hope that this annual may continue to present an objective review of the school year and show school life as it is."

The Maroon and White, 1945.

So sayeth the editors of MBA's first yearbook. We, the editors of the 2001 yearbook, believe that we have accomplished that goal. Or at least we should have with the number of hours we put into this thing. When we began this monumental task, we seemed to think it would be a bit simpler that it actually was. When we read the comments of previous editors, we did not understand what they were complaining about. At yearbook camp last summer, the two of us dreamed of flawless pages filled with pictures created by a large staff of diligent workers.

Now, more than two weeks after we supposedly graduated from this school, as we sit and type in the one room at MBA in which we probably spent the most hours during our careers on the hill, we have to laugh. Not because we resent all those people who promised aid but never delivered (well . . . maybe we do just a little), but because we have so many good memories of this room. From saluting outgoing pages, to preparing packages on the sidewalk in front of the FedEx man who would only wait five minutes, to speaking Spanish and sharing dirty stories with the Honduran cleaning crew late at night, and to throwing big publications room parties, without the yearbook, we would not have experienced any of these things that helped to make our senior year unique.

However, we are not saying that it was all fun and games. Far from it. While tossing around ideas on what to use to fill up a blank page, we thought about making a list of the ten most common phrases heard in the publications room, but then we realized that most of those phrases could not be published in this book. Several times, we both considered retiring and letting some nonexistent sucker take over the burden. We kept going though. We stayed at school until our moms called and threatened to have us evicted (about 3:30 a.m.). We worked all day before prom to prepare the superlatives. While most seniors set up the Senior prank at midnight, we worked on the yearbook. In effect, the two of us, Jeff Sweeney and Sumeet Vaikunth, did it all. We took the pictures, we wrote the captions, we laid out the pages, we edited the pages, and when we couldn't find someone else to write text about features or sports (which was most of the time), we wrote the text (which explains why many of the articles say very few specific facts about the particular subjects). Of course, we did have a lot of help from Jamie Atkinson, Andy Gryll, Junior Evan Shelby, and other people named on the previous page, for which we are very thankful.

Anyway, we hope you enjoyed this year's yearbook. Please do not complain to us about any of these captions. They are meant in jest and they all seemed funny at 1 o'clock in the morning. However, if you feel wrongfully insulted, feel free to make prank calls to Mr. Kelly's home late at night. Also, ignore any propaganda found throughout the yearbook. As the year progressed we became increasingly more cynical and angry.

With that said, we think that we are going to go now. For us, this is the end. We have graduated and the yearbook is sent out. We will have to return in a few weeks to proofread some pages, but that's about it. We have left our mark, and for years to come, people will see the 2001 school year at MBA as we saw it. We are very proud of that fact and that we stand in a long line of hardworking editors.

To next year's editors and to all those editors that will follow, good luck, you have the most difficult, but also most important job at MBA, and we hope that you continue to improve and build on the goal that the first editors set.

Jeffrey Sweeney Sumeet Vaikunth
